AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.
NOT A FEW

Of the worst disorders that affect mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect Helmbold's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and renovates the blood, instils the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy, that could be relied on, has long been sought for, and now, for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonfuls of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla or the decoction as usually made.

☞ THESE EXTRACTS HAVE BEEN ADMITTED TO USE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY, and are also in very general use in all the State HOSPITALS and PUBLIC SANITARY INSTITUTIONS throughout the land, as well as in private practice, and are considered as invaluable remedies.

FOREIGN-OFFICE, Nov. 11, 1865.

The following correspondence has passed between Mr. ADAMS, the United States Minister to this Court, and Earl RUSSELL, when Her Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs:

[No. 1.]

EARL RUSSELL TO MR. ADAMS.

FOREIGN-OFFICE, Oct. 14, 1865.

SIR: I have thought it best to wait for the answer to the reference you have made to your government before replying to your last letter.

But I observe that you have not clearly understood my proposal for the appointment of a commission.

That proposal is made in the following terms:

"Her Majesty's Government are ready to consent to the appointment of a commission to which shall be referred all claims arising during the late civil war which the two Powers shall agree to refer to the Commissioners."

There are, I conceive, many claims upon which the two Powers would agree that they were fair subjects of investigation before Commissioners.

But I think you must perceive that if the United States Government were to propose to refer claims arising out of the captures made by the Alabama and Shenandoah to the Commissioners, the answer of Her Majesty's Government must be, in consistency with the whole argument I have maintained, in conformity with the views entertained by your government in former times.

I should be obliged, in answer to such a proposal, to say, "For any acts of Her Majesty's subjects committed out of their jurisdiction, and beyond their control, the Government of Her Majesty are not responsible."

I should say further that the appointment of a commission for such purpose would not be consistent with any practice usual among civilized nations, and that it is a principle well known and well understood that no nation is responsible for the acts of its citizens committed without its jurisdiction and out of the reach of its control.

I should have cleared up this point before, but I thought that the words "which the two Powers shall agree to refer to the commissioners" would put an end to any doubt upon the subject. I am, &c.,

(Signed) RUSSELL.

[No. 2.]

MR. ADAMS TO EARL RUSSELL—RECEIVED OCT. 18.

LEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES,
LONDON, Oct. 17, 1865.

MY LORD: I have the honor to acknowledge the reception of your note of the 14th inst., explanatory of some portions of a preceding one, dated the 30th of August last.

This has reached me just in season to enable me to dispense with the necessity of soliciting precisely that information; for although the government which I have the honor to represent had already understood your Lordship's note as substantially in the same sense, it has instructed me to ask the confirmation of it which has now been supplied.

I am now directed to inform your Lordship that the contents of your note of the 30th of August have received the most careful consideration.

With regard to the reference which you were pleased to make to a friendly remark contained in the note which I had the honor to address to your Lordship on the 23d of October, 1863, apparently considering it in the light of a formal proposal for arbitration, I am desired, in view of the reasons given by your Lordship why such a mode of adjustment would not be acceptable to Her Majesty's Government, to state that, whatever may have heretofore been, or might now be thought by the President, of umpirage between the two Powers, no proposition of that kind for the settlement of existing differences will henceforward be insisted upon, or submitted on the part of my government.

The proposal of some form of commission made by your Lordship still remains under consideration. To the end that my government may be the better enabled to make a satisfactory reply to it, I am still under the necessity of soliciting more information in regard to the precise nature of the claims which Her Majesty's Government is disposed to agree to consider. I am instructed to venture so far as to ask the favor of your Lordship to distinguish as well what among the classes of claims it is willing, and what it would not be willing, to refer to the proposed commission.

I pray, &c.,
CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS.

[No. 3]

EARL RUSSELL TO MR. ADAMS.

FOREIGN OFFICE, Oct. 19, 1865.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 17th inst., requesting to be informed of the precise nature of the claims which Her Majesty's Government would be willing to refer to a commission; and I have to state to you in reply, that the information you request may take some time in preparation, but Her Majesty's Government will furnish it as soon as they can consistently with the importance of the question. I am, &c.,

(Signed,) RUSSELL.

EARL RUSSELL TO MR. ADAMS.

FOREIGN OFFICE, Nov. 3, 1865.

SIR: Her Majesty Government have duly considered your letter of the 18th of September, and, however unwilling I may be to prolong this discussion, I find it absolutely necessary to clear up some misconceptions as to the course and conduct of Great Britain during the recent contest in America.

I do not consider it incumbent upon me, however, to repeat or enlarge upon my arguments in reference to the alleged precipitate recognition of belligerent rights, or the contrast you draw between the conduct of Her Majesty's Government in the late civil war and that of France during the American war of independence.

The existence of belligerent rights is, as Mr. CANNING said, a question of fact rather than of opinion, and if the fact of a vast insurrection is developed suddenly, rapidly, and completely the case must, I conceive, be treated by other nations in a different manner from the case of a rebellion breaking out partially, slowly, and gradually.

Nor do I conceive it is necessary to point out the difference between the conduct of France acknowledging the United States of America as an independeet State, and forming treaties with the government of that State within two years of the declaration of independence, and the patient neutrality of Great Britain, notwithstanding the interruption of her commerce and the immense losses suffered by her people during the four years, until victory had declared in favor of the government against which the insurrection was directed.

I cannot forbear, however, to express some surprise at the apparent confidence you express that Her Majesty's Government will acquiesce in a doctrine which the United States, during more than thirty years, declared to be opposed to the law and practice of nations, and that Her Majesty's Government will grant reparation on grounds which, when urged by Portugal in a similar case, the United States positively, constantly, and solemnly rejected.

Thus I find, that in November, 1850, the Portuguese Minister at Washington,[*] in an able summary of the Portugues claims, after relating that upward of 60 Portuguese vessels had been captured or plundered; that the fitting out at Baltimore of the privateers which effected their capture was notorious, and that many leading citizens of Baltimore, including the Sheriff and Postmaster, were summoned before the courts as interested in those privateers, adds, "The undersigned begs leave to say, and he submits that it was the duty of the United States Government to exercise a reasonable degree of diligence to prevent these proceedings of its citizens, and that having failed to do so, a just claim exists on the part of the Government of Portugal, in behalf of its despoiled subjects, against the United States for the amount of the losses sustained by reason thereof."

But did the United States admit the claims thus courteously preferred? I cannot find that even any reply was returned to the Portuguese Minister.

Probably the United States Government relied on the answers which from 1816 to 1822, and from 1822 to 1828, had been given to the Ministers of Portugal.

These answers were, in substance, that prosecutions would be instituted, if evidence were forthcoming. Thus, in reply to a letter of the Portuguese Minister of Dec. 11, 1818, respecting JOHN DANIELS, the supposed commander of a privateer, Mr. JOHN QUINCY ADAMS says:[†]

> The Attorney of the United States for the District of Maryland, under instructions from this department, will commence a prosecution against him, if evidence shall appear sufficient for convicting him of having violated the laws of the United States, by outrages committed upon any of the subjects of Portugal.
> I have the honor of giving you this notice in reference to your letter above-mentioned, and of requesting you to give directions that any testimony which may be material for the commencement of a prosecution, and which it may be in your power to indicate, may be made known to ELIAS GLENN, the District-Attorney of the United States of Baltimore, who is directed to prosecute conformably to the laws any person against whom the evidence obtainable shall be sufficient to warrant his conviction.

Exactly similar to this conduct on the part of your government has been the conduct of Her Majesty's Government in the late war. In the case of the Alabama I asked for evidence sufficient to obtain a verdict, and as I could not myself judge of the sufficiency of the evidence you tendered, I referred the question to the law officers of the Crown.

If it is asserted that I did not use reasonable dilligence, or that the late and the present Attorney-General were either ignorant of the law, or purposely misstated it, I can only respectfully but decidedly repel any such charge, both for myself and for the law officers of the Crown.

Yet, although our conduct has been precisely similar to that of your own government to Portugal, you now draw an alarming picture of the consequences which may arise from such conduct. "For," you say:

> "If it be once fairly established as a principle of the international code, that a neutral Power is the sole judge of the degree to which it has done its duty, under a code of its own making, for the prevention of gross and flagrant outrages, initiated in its own ports by the agents of one belligerent in coöperation with numbers of its own subjects, and perpetrated upon the commerce of the other on the high seas; if it be conceded that the neutral, upon reclamation made for the injuries thus done by reason of the manifest inefficiency of its means of repression, which it has at all times the power to improve at will, can deliberately decline to respond to any such appeal, fall back upon the little that it has attempted as an excuse, and thenceforward claim, with justice, to be released from the inevitable consequences that must ensue from its inaction, then it must surely follow that the only competition between neutral Powers hereafter will be, not which shall do the most, but which shall do the least to fulfill its obligations of interdiction of the industry and enterprise of its people in promoting the conflicts that take place between belligerents on the ocean."

Yet, as far as I can judge, your Secretaries of State always maintained that the United States as a neutral power were "the sole judges of the degree in which it had done its duty under a code of its own making."

But now as to the code. I fully admit that the laws of Congress of 1817 and 1818 differ from the act of 1794. The chief difference appears to me to lie in the provision that, besides Princes and States specified in the act of 1794, the act of 1818 extends to "colony, district, or people."

But so does, in other words, our act of 1819. There are other differences, however, and to these I suppose you allude.

But for the reasons which I proceed to state, these other differences (of which I did not lose sight while stating in my former letter that the main provisions of the Act of Congress of 1818 had been adopted in our legislation of 1819, so far as they were considered applicable to the circumstances of this country) have never appeared to Her Majesty's Government to be of any very material importance.

The 10th section of the Act of Congress of the 20th of April, 1818, requires bonds to be given "by the owners or consignees of every armed ship or vessel sailing out of the ports of the United States, belonging wholly or in part to citizens thereof," in double the value of the ship and cargo, against the employment of such ship or vessel, "by such owners," to cruise or commit hostilities against the subjects, &c., of any province or State with whom the United States are at peace.

The 11th section of the Act of Congress of April 20, 1818, is in these words:

> "And be it further enacted, that the collectors of the customs be, and they are hereby respectively authorized and required to detain any vessel manifestly built for warlike purposes, and about to depart for the United States, of which the cargo shall principally consist of arms and munitions of war, when the number of men shipped on board, or other circumstances, shall render it probable that such vessel is intended to be employed by the owner or owners to cruise or commit hostilities upon the subjects, citizens, or property of any foreign Prince or State, or of any colony, district, or people with whom the United States are at peace, until the decision of the President be had thereon, or until the owners shall give such bond and security as is required of the owners of armed ships by the proceeding section of this act."

Now, I contend, first, that for ten years these provisions proved utterly inefficacious to prevent the fitting out of privateers at Baltimore, as shown by the fact that the complaint of the Portuguese Ministers of captures and plundering by American privateers were more frequent, and extended to a larger amount of property after 1818 than they had done from 1816 to 1818.

But, secondly, I observe that the 10th section applies only to the vessels which are already armed before they sail out of the ports of the United States, and which belong (wholly or in part) to United States' citizens; and the security taken under this section is only against their employment, "by such owners," to cruise, &c., leaving those owners at liberty, without forfeiting their bonds, to transfer the vessels to others who might afterward so employ them. The 11th section applies only to vessels "manifestly built for warlike purposes," and "of which the cargo shall principally consist of arms, munitions of war," and I think it is quite clear that had we so amended our law, and had it been found applicable in any cases, the owners of the vessels might easily have given the bonds required, and might as easily have sent their vessels to sea, forfeiting or not forfeiting, as the event might have turned out, the amount of their bonds. The great armies equipped and fed by the Confederates; their vast magazines; the money advanced for the Birkenhead rams, show conclusively that, if Her Majesty's Government had relied on such provisions as the 10th and 11th sections of the act of Congress, many vessels, probably including the rams at Birkenhead, would have escaped and have been employed in breaking the blockade of Charleston and other Southern ports. Be that as it may, however, these provisions of the act of Congress clearly would not be applicable to the Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Shenandoah, and vessels of that class; none of which, when they left this country, were either "armed ships or vessels," or had on board any cargo, consisting "principally" (if at all) "of arms and munitions of war," neither would they have been applicable to the ships which carried out arms, &c., to those vessels, but which were themselves neither armed nor "intended to be employed by the owner or owners to cruise or commit hostilities." If, therefore, such provisions had been contained in the British statute, they would have proved simply nugatory, and would have added nothing in any of the cases which have actually happened to the powers of prevention given by the act as it stands.

In that case what would have been our position? We should have been reproached more than ever in America for the insincerity of our proceeding, and our inactivity in executing our own law. Results would have been appealed to, as you appeal to them in the letter to which I am now giving an answer.

In the case of "the Birkenhead rams," we had first the evidence, in their construction itself, that they were built for warlike purposes; next a copy of the contract by which Mr. BULLOCK, the Confederate agent, agreed to sell these vessels to M. BRAVAY; next the proof that their Egyptian names, &c., were only a fiction, the Viceroy of Egypt having positively refused to buy them. Those and other circumstances amounted to a presumptive proof that these formidable vessels were intended for the purpose of making war on the United States. You are already aware of the conduct of the government when they had, as in this instance, a case in which they could proceed.

On the other side, take the case of the Sea King. She was a merchant ship, unarmed, which went from the Thames to a foreign port. Our Foreign Enlistment Act, like yours, requires two things to be proved: First, that the vessel is fitted out, armed or equipped for warlike purposes; but, secondly, it is not enough to prove that the vessel is fitted out, armed or equipped for purposes of war. The warlike intent must be directed against some Prince or State in friendly relations with the Crown of Great Britain. Now, on neither of these points did you furnish us, nor did we possess, a title of evidence against the Sea King. Yet you hold us responsible for all the depredations she may have committed on the high seas.

It must not be forgotten that in a free country the Crown cannot act upon mere vague suspicion, without some evidence to submit to a jury; and that trial by jury affords to British subjects the same protection which, in an ordinary state of peace, American citizens enjoy in your own country.

Her Majesty's Government desire to be on the most friendly terms with the United States, but are not prepared to accede to any demand which aims at the diminution of our freedom, or which assumes, without warrant from any previously recognized authority or practice, the existence of an extent of obligation on the part of neutrals toward belligerents going beyond any which the government of a free country could have power though acting with entire good faith, punctually to fulfill.

Yet it appears to me, I confess, that as neither the law of the United States nor our own Foreign Enlistment Act have proved upon trial completely efficacious, it is worth consideration whether improvements may not be made in the statutes of both nations, so that, for the future, each government may have in its own territory as much security as our free institutions will permit against those who act in defiance of the intention of the sovereign and evade the letter of its laws.

I have the honor to inclose a memorandum in regard to our own conduct during the American war, in reference to a passage in your letter, (inclosure No. 1,) and a second memorandum showing in what manner your various complaints during the recent civil war have been disposed of (inclosure No. 2.)

I have, in conclusion, only to repeat, in this the last letter which I shall have the honor to address to you on this subject, my sincere and earnest hope that our two countries, now both relieved from the stain and the guilt of slavery, may perform their part in the world in peace and good will.

I am, &c., RUSSELL.

The first memorandum appended to the correspondence relates to the measures of coercion adopted by Great Britain during her contest with the revolted North American colonies, on their declaration of independence. This memorandum is a reply to a letter from Mr. ADAMS, dated the 18th of September of the present year. Lord RUSSELL draws from the details of the conduct of the Government of France, during an early period of the war, the conclusion that it was actively hostile to Great Britain, and that Mr. ADAMS is not justified in contrasting that conduct favorably with the neutral course of Great Britain in the present civil war between the two portions of the American Republic. Great Britain did not, by any act of hers, confer on her revolted colonies any belligerent character, nor did she enforce such rights against neutrals. On the contrary, for a long period she dealt with those colonies as revolted provinces, by acts of ordinary legislation, and by restrictions on their trade. But the United States, within a few months after the commencement of the insurrection, conferred upon the Southern States belligerent rights by the proclamation issued by the President on the 19th of April, 1861, establishing the blockade of the Southern States, in pursuance of the laws of those States and the laws of nations in such cases provided.

The second memorandum sets forth in minute detail the steps taken by Her Majesty's Government on every case of supposed infraction of the Enlistment Act of which a complaint was lodged by the American Minister. These details are given, case by case, in the order in which the complaints were received, beginning with those of the Bermuda, on Aug. 14, 1861, and the Sumter on Sept 30, of the same year. A brief sketch of the facts in each case is given, sometimes forming a history of the career of the vessel. Two well-known ships may be selected as samples of the register:

SUMTER.

Sept. 30, 1851.

Complaint of the Sumter having been acknowledged as a ship-of-war at Trinidad by the Governor and the Captain of Her Majesty's ship Cadmus.

The circumstances had been already reported, and the opinion of the law officers taken, (Sept. 16,) who decided that no irregularity had been committed. Mr. ADAMS was informed accordingly.

The Sumter had run the blockade of the Mississippi, whence she went to Puerto Cabello, and then to Trinidad. She was afterwards laid up at Gibraltar, where she was watched by the United States steamer Tuscarora. While at Gibraltar the captain was assassinated by the lieutenant. The ship was dismantled and sold to the British firm in December, 1862, and came to Liverpool. Her proceedings there occasioned a subsequent correspondence.

ALABAMA.

June 23, 1862.

Acknowledged, referred to Treasury and law officers, June 25.

A vessel known as the No. 290, building by Messrs. LAIRD at Liverpool. Law officers reported (June 30) that there was not sufficient evidence to proceed on, but that the vessel should be watched. The reports received from the Customs were sent to Mr. ADAMS, (July 4,) with a suggestion that the United States Consul at Liverpool should procure further proofs of equipment, &c. Mr. ADAMS acknowledged, and promised to act on, this suggestion, (July 7.) He sent further depositions accordingly, (July 22 and 24,) and accompanied the latter letter by an opinion of Mr. COLLIER in favor of seizure. The law officers reported (July 29) that she should be seized; but on the morning of the 29th she had sailed from the Mersey under pretext of a trial trip. A copy of the law officers' opinion was sent to the Bahamas in case of the Alabama going there. She, however, proceeded to Angra bay, Azores, where she met the Bahama and Agrippina, with her armament, her commander, Capt. SEMMES, and forty-two seamen. She then hoisted the Confederate flag, and sailed for Port Royal, Martinique, next to Bianco Island, (belonging to Venezuela,) where she coaled, then to Arkas Keys, then destroyed the United States ship Hatteras, off Galveston, and afterward to Jamaica, where she was received and recognized as a regularly commissioned ship of war.

She continued her depredations at the Cape of Good Hope and elsewhere, until she was finally sunk by the United States ship Kearsarge, off Cherbourg, June 19, 1864."

On February 27, 1863, four men of the Naval Reserve having enlisted on board the Alabama, their names were struck off the list by the Admiralty.

The following is a summary of Mr. ADAMS' representations, and the steps taken by the government in each case:

Mr. ADAMS' representations may be divided into four classes:

1. Outfit of vessels for the Confederate navy in British ports.
2. Reception of Confederate war vessels in British ports.
3. Enlistments for the Confederate service.
4. Miscellaneous.

1. OUTFIT OF VESSELS FOR THE CONFEDERATE NAVY IN BRITISH PORTS.

It will be seen from the foregoing statement that Mr. ADAMS complained of no less than 19 vessels, viz.: 1, the Bermuda; 2, the Oreto, or Florida; 3, the Alabama; 4, the Georgiana; 5, the Phantom; 6, the Southerner; 7, the Alexandra; 8, the Virginia, or Japan (Georgia;) 9, 10, the iron-clads; 11, the Canton, or the Pampero; 12, the Rappahannock; 13, the Amphion; 14, the Hawk; 15, the Shenandoah, or Sea King; 16, the Louisa Ann Fanny; 17, the Virginia; 18, the Hercules; 19, the Ajax.

Of these five subsequently hoisted the Confederate ensign: The Oreto or Florida, the Alabama, the Virginia or Japan, the Rappahannock, the Shenandoah.

The Oreto or Florida, besides having been watched by the customs previously to her leaving England, was seized and tried at Nassau and acquitted. She then ran into Mobile, took her armament on board, and through the negligence of the blockading ship, United States ship Oneida, (whose Captain, Capt. PREBLE, was dismissed the service in consequence,) succeeded in escaping, and issued on her career as a regularly commissioned ship-of-war, the Florida.

This vessel, therefore, cannot be said to have been equipped or fitted out in a British port, nor can the British home or colonial authorities be accused of any want of activity with regard to her.

The Alabama, it is true, succeeded in escaping by a trick on the morning of the very day on which she would have been seized. Her armament was taken on board off Terceira, and her first recognition as a Confederate war vessel was in a French (Port Royal, Martinique,) and not a British port.

Virginia or Japan—this vessel, it will have been observed, sailed before any information of her character had reached Her Majesty's Government, and was, in fact, taking in her armament in French waters on the very day on which Mr. ADAMS' representation was dated.

The same thing occurred with regard to the Rappahannock, which was at Calais on the 26th of November, 1863, Mr. ADAMS' representation not being received until the 28th. In this case, however, the precipitancy with which the vessel was dispatched, in an incomplete state, to avoid detention, prevented her ever being available for service, and although she had the Confederate flag flying when she entered Calais, she had neither guns nor ammunition on board.

The Shenandoah, or Sea King, escaped in a similar manner to the Virginia and Rappahannock, and the first intimation that was received of her proceedings, was from Her Majesty's Consul at Teneriffe, reporting the transfer of crew and armament to her from the Laurel, at the Desertas, off Funchal. In this case, indeed, had information been received in time, it is not probable that she could have been detained, as she was a regular trading vessel, well known as the Sea King, in the East India trade.

In fact, as regards all these five vessels, the case may be shortly stated that, in three instances, information was not received in time for Her Majesty's Government to take any measures of prevention; in one instance the vessel was equipped and armed in a Confederate port, and in the remaining one the ship succeeded in baffling the vigilance of the authorities at the very moment of her intended seizure. The Virginia, (Georgia,) the Alabama and the Shenandoah were alike armed and manned in foreign waters.

During the four years of the civil war, from 1861 to 1865, not a single armed ship for the Confederate service was dispatched from any port either of Great Britain or the British colonies; and only one vessel, the Alabama, which it could have been possible to detain, escaped for conversion into a cruiser.

On the other hand, on looking at the preceding list, we see that four vessels were proceeded against in England, and thereby prevented from entering the Confederate service, viz: the Alexandra, the two iron-clads, and the Canton or Pampero.

Although the prosecution of the first of these was not successful, it served to detain her for a long period; and a second prosecution, which was instituted at Nassau, has kept her under seizure until the end of the war; the iron-clads, the most formidable of all the intended cruisers, were thus similarly detained, and eventually purchased to avoid further litigation; while the Canton, or Pampero, was condemned and remained in the hands of the Crown until the occasion for her seizure had passed.

The remaining ten vessels denounced by Mr. ADAMS proved to be ordinary merchantmen, intended chiefly for running the blockade, which is not an offence amenable to the law.

To these cases may be added the alleged refit of the Sumter at Liverpool, the report of which proved unfounded.

The list includes all the suspected vessels in British ports, with the exception of two—the Almandares and Pinero—which were alleged, though not by Mr. ADAMS, to be equipping at Montreal. No case was made out. [Colonial Office, Feb. 9, 1865.]

When the delay in seizing the Alabama is so severely criticized by Mr. ADAMS, it must be remembered that in the two preceding representations his information had proved to be erroneous, the Bermuda being evidently not intended for a ship-of-war, and the Oreto having been found innocent in a court of law. The latter was subsequently converted into a cruiser, but the readiness with which a merchant vessel can be made available for belligerent purposes has been shown by the fact that the most efficient blockading ships in the Federal navy were captured blockade-runners.

PROCEEDINGS TAKEN WITH REGARD TO VESSELS.

Five prosecuted: Oreto, at Nassau; 2. Alexandra, in England and at Nassau; 3, 4, ironclads; 5. Canton or Pampero.

Also orders given to detain the Alabama had she touched at Queenstown or Nassau after her evasion from Liverpool.

The Governor of the Bahamas was likewise instructed to watch other vessels regarding which representations had been made, as the Louisa Ann Fanny, &c.

PROSECUTIONS FOR ENGAGEMENT OF MEN FOR CONFEDERATE SERVICE.

1. Mr. RUMBALL, (Rappahannock,) acquitted.
2. JONES and HIGHAT, (Georgia and Florida,) convicted.
3. CAMPBELL, (Georgia,) convicted.
4. SEYMOUR, CUNNINGHAM and BUCHANAN, (Rappahannock,) convicted.
5. Capt. CORBETT, (Shenandoah,) case pending.

When it was found that such vessels as the Rappahannock and Amphion, although useless to Her Majesty's navy, might be reconverted into Confederate cruisers, instructions were given that no more ships should be sold out of Her Majesty's navy.

Moreover, when Capt. OSBORN's fleet returned from China, and it was feared that the vessels composing it might fall into Confederate hands, Her Majesty's Government interposed both in India and England to prevent their sale.

When the sale and conveyance of the Georgia was complained of, a Custom's notification was published, forbidding vessels-of-war to be sold and dismantled in British ports.

Finally, as will have been shown by the preceding statement, every representation of Mr. ADAMS was considered immediately on its receipt, and referred, when requisite, to the law officers or other departments of Her Majesty's Government, without even a day's delay.

CITY POLITICS.

The New School Law.

At the last session of the Legislature, some important changes were made in the act relative to Common Schools in this city. The metropolis was divided into seven school districts, as follows:

First District—First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Eighth Wards.
Second District—Seventh, Tenth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Wards.
Third District—Ninth and Sixteenth Wards.
Fourth District—Eleventh and Seventeenth Wards.
Fifth District—Fifteenth and Eighteenth Wards.
Sixth District—Twentieth and Twenty-first Wards.
Seventh District—Twelfth, Nineteenth and Twenty-second Wards.

The law also provides that at every charter election there shall be elected in each School District one Commissioner of Common Schools, who shall take office on the first day of January, and hold office for the term of three years; and there shall also be elected in each ward one Trustee of Common Schools, who shall take office on the 1st of January, and hold office for the term of five years. On the second Wednesday in January the Mayor is to nominate to the Board of Education one person for each school district as a Commissioner of Common Schools, the board having the power to appoint or reject the nominees. If rejected new nominations are to be made, and the persons appointed are to hold office until the 1st of January, 1867. On the third Wednesday in November of every year the Mayor must nominate to the Board of Education one person for each school district as an Inspector of Common Schools, to hold office for the term of three years, the nominations to be confirmed or rejected by the board.

It will be seen from the above synopsis of the law that:

1. The Board of Education is reduced from forty-four to twenty-one members—three from each district.
2. The Boards of Trustees are reduced from ten to five members.
3. The Inspectors, instead of being two in each ward will be three in each School District—twenty-one in all.

Seven Commissioners of the present board hold over until 1866. The following are the Union candidates for election to the board as Commissioners:

First District—Timothy Brennan.
Second District—Charles Schauffner.
Third District—Samuel B. H. Vance.
Fourth District—Samuel P. Patterson.
Fifth District—Stephen W. Phoenix.
Sixth District—James L. Hastings.
Seventh District—Horatio P. Allen.

The following gentlemen have been nominated for the office of Trustees:

First Ward—William O'Brien.
Second Ward—William Buckley.
Third Ward—David L. Robbins.
Fourth Ward—Morris Freedsam.
Fifth Ward—Andrew W. Legget, full term; Wm. H. Burras, three years; Z. West, one year.
Sixth Ward—Walter Roach.
Seventh Ward—Thomas Warren.
Eighth Ward—Walter W. Adams, Matthias Clark.
Ninth Ward—James W. Booth.
Tenth Ward—Robert R. Brees.
Thirteenth Ward—Eneas Elliott.
Fourteenth Ward—William Miller.
Fifteenth Ward—Otis D. Swann.
Sixteenth Ward—Benjamin C Wandell.
Seventeenth Ward—Col. John A. Foster.
Nineteenth Ward—Charles W. Hull.
Twentieth Ward—Gabriel L. Van Cott.
Twenty-first Ward—John Stephenson.

The Workingmen's Independent Political Association Indorse Mr. Roberts for Mayor.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Nov. 28, 1865.

Marshall O. Roberts, Esq.:

On behalf of the workingmen of the City of New-York, the undersigned, a committee appointed for the purpose by the Workingmen's Independent Political Organization, tender to you the nomination as the workingmen's candidate for Mayor at the approaching election.

Your nomination was unanimous, and it is the determination of our organization to give you our undivided support, that success may crown our labors in the coming contest.

The workingmen are determined that a reform must take place in our city government, and that superfluous offices must be done away with, that the taxation of the city may be decreased.

Upon these principles we present your name to the people of this city as the workingmen's candidate for Mayor, knowing that you will discharge the duties of your office with honesty and integrity, and as you have been a workingman yourself, you will not forget the workingmen now.

J. C. FREEMAN,
P. D. O'SULLIVAN,
O. W. JORDAN,
JAMES M. BELL,
J. D. PLUNKETT,
COL. EDWARD E. SAMPSON,
GEORGE D. HUGHES,
D. G. GARRISON,
E. M. GREGORY,
Committee.

The committee called on Mr. ROBERTS, last night, and tendered the nomination to him. Mr. ROBERTS accepted, after which the committee retired.

Union Nomination.

Mr. JOHN STEPHENSON was, last evening, renominated for School Trustee of the Twenty-first Ward, a position he has held for the past twenty years.

Nominations by Citizens' Association.

The following nominations were made last evening:

For Councilmen in the Fifth Senatorial District—Wm. H. Falconer, Nicholas Seger, John White, Chas. Koster, David Hogg, Clement Watts.

Samuel P. Patterson was nominated for School Commissioner, and Geo. B. Stutsman for Trustee.

Acceptance of Hon. Murray Hoffman.

GENTLEMEN: I have received your communication apprising me of my nomination as the Union candidate for the office of Corporation Counsel. I accept the nomination, and beg, through you, to express my high sense of the honor conferred upon me.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
MURRAY HOFFMAN.

Messrs. ISAAC DAYTON and others, Committee, &c.
NEW-YORK, Nov. 27, 1865.

Mass Meeting in the Thirteenth Ward.

A mass meeting of the citizens of the Thirteenth Ward was held last evening, at Clinton Garden, to ratify the nomination of JOHN HECKER for Mayor, and THOMAS BROWN for Alderman. Some six hundred persons were present. Resolutions ratifying the above nominations were adopted, when the meeting was addressed by Messrs. C. G. BENTEL, JAMES BROWNSON, JOHN COMERFORD and others.

ANOTHER RAILROAD ACCIDENT — CARELESS SWITCH-TENDER.—The Cincinnati express train, due here at 6:30 this morning, ran off the track at Tivoli, on the Hudson River Railroad, smashing up the engine, tender and baggage-car, but fortunately no one injured. The switch was placed the wrong way, and the only excuse the man had to give was, "he didn't think it was time for the train to arrive yet." He very soon after was among the missing. The train was delayed between eight and nine hours.

FREEDMEN'S AID COMMISSION.—The proceeds of sale of "Soldier's Letters," published by BUNCE & HUNOTINGTON, will hereafter be devoted to the Freedmen's Aid Commission. A large edition is now ready.

STRONG DIVORCE CASE.

Evidence of Miss Mussehl, Mrs. Hutchinson, and Mrs. Bedell.

Observation of a Forty Years' Servant.

Confession of Mrs. Strong as Revealed to Mrs. Bedell.

Vigorous and Continuous Protests of Mr. John Graham.

Before Judge Garvin and a Jury.

The fourth day's proceedings of the Strong divorce case were in no way behind in interest and attraction to their predecessors. The usual crowd attended, drawn by various sympathies or motives. On the bench, Judges MONCRIEF and BARBOUR shared the dignity of Judge GARVIN, who occasionally consulted them. Among the bar were JOHN VAN BUREN, CHARLES O'CONOR, JOHN SHERWOOD, District-Attorney BEDFORD, Maj. HORATIO N. KING, and sundry "criminal lawyers." Mr. STRONG was attended by his counsel and brother, while Mr. JOHN AUSTIN STEVENS and his son were accompanied, as usual, by their friends.

Miss MUSSEHL's testimony was exhausted, after which Mrs. HUTCHINSON, an elderly woman, who had lived with the STRONG family some forty years, was put upon the stand. As she was exceedingly deaf, the counsel were compelled to stand close to her and shout their questions in most vociferous tones. The old woman seemed to enjoy the scene, and talked back quite as loudly, and imparted quite as much zest to her replies as was allowable in court. The rest of the day was occupied in the attempt on the part of Mr. CRAM to read a deposition made by Mrs. Bishop BEDELL, and the attempt on the part of Mr. GRAHAM to prevent his reading. Both were partially successful, for for every sentence allowed by the court one was stricken out, so that the document which is something like 100 foolscap pages in length, bids fair to be seriously mutilated by the time its end is reached.

At the opening of the court Mr. MASSEY, alias Montague, alias Jones, reported for service, and was excused for the day, after which Miss MATILDA MUSSEHL was called, and her cross-examination resumed by Mr. JOHN GRAHAM, as follows:

CROSS-EXAMINATION OF MISS MUSSEHL RESUMED.

I am not married; I have not the note sent me by Mrs. Strong in April; I don't know where it is; I don't recollect what I did with it, or what became of it; I don't know when I last saw it; don't think I saw it after I read it; received it by the hand of a messenger; don't remember whether I threw it down or not; the other members of the Strong family kept horses; Mrs. Jas. Henry kept them as well as Edward and Peter; Benjamin may have done so; I think I can state he did; I noticed James and Benjamin when they drove out; I may have seen other ladies drive out with them, but don't recollect; don't remember ever seeing Mrs. Strong drive with Benjamin or James; I never saw James with Mrs. Strong; don't know that I saw her ride with him; the house stands back from the main road; the drive way comes up by the house; the house is surrounded by garden and fields; when the carriage drove up the noise could not be heard from the main road; I think the house road is a soft one, but I don't remember; the noise, perhaps, could be heard in the house, but I don't know; don't remember whether it was cold or not, or whether the doors were open, or the windows up; but I suppose they were down; I don't remember that I saw the carriage; I can't swear that it was Peter's carriage because I didn't see it; of my own knowledge I can't swear it was Peter's carriage; the gas was lighted; I did not see him get out of the carriage; I can't swear he got out; I know he was not in the house; I did not go through the house; I can't swear he was not in the house; don't remember that the door of Mrs. Strong's room was locked on that occasion; I have known it to be locked; I saw Mrs. Bedell there but only once; I mean by that one visit; she staid over night, but I don't remember how many days; I saw Peter and Edward together as much as with the other brothers; I never said she went to the theatres.

In regard to the question concerning Mrs. Strong's health after the miscarriage, the Judge admitted the question and noted Mr. Cram's exception.

Miss Mussehl resumed.—After that event her health was not as good as before.

Mr. Cram objected to the witness' opinion as to the cause of her ill health, as she is not an expert.

Judge Garvin thought the question was competent; his ruling did not involve the aider or abettor of the miscarriage, but the fact of ill health is admitted, and the cause is known to the witness; she states that she knows what it is, and she may state it. Exception noted.

Miss Mussehl—After this event she kept her bed some time, but I don't remember how long; I should think a week or so; Dr. Watson attended her during that period; I don't know how soon after she went out; I think very soon she walked about the house; when I left in April she attended to her household duties; (Mr. Cram objected;) I did not consider her quite as strong; (to a juror;) it was only by my observation; I attended her sometimes; she suffered pain sometimes; she complained to me of pain; I made applications for the purpose of alleviating pain. (Objected to by Mr. Cram.) It was external application; I put poultices on her. (Objected to by Mr. Cram.) I don't remember anything else; I thought the miscarriage produced this change of health on Mrs. Strong; during my residence in Twenty-first-street other members of the family visited there; I remember old Mrs. Strong; I don't remember the others; don't know how often she came; Mrs. Strong received her when she came; she staid an hour or so; don't remember that she staid at meal-time; the mother was there at Edith's funeral and at other occasions; I can't remember what other times she came; the housekeeper came sometimes; her name is Mrs. Cheatham; she came once with her; another lady came once with her; don't remember her name; a relation I suppose; don't remember seeing her after the funeral, she may have been there; or whether the other brothers visited there; I suppose they were there; don't remember that Mr. and Mrs. Strong went to church together after Edith's death; I generally did not stay Sundays in the house; don't know they went out to walk together after Edith's death; Mrs. Strong was attentive to her children; she was fond of them; it was the same after Edith's death; I noticed no difference; she didn't go out often after Edith's death; she was distressed after Edith's death.

A discussion ensued as to whether the witness could speak of the distress of a mother.

Judge Garvin—I think that the matter is sufficiently proven.

Mr. Graham—It's a mere matter of opinion, and I repeat that this witness has no right to infer the distress of the mother, nor infer the cause of it. (Objection overruled and exception noted.)

Miss Mussehl—I did not see them read together after Edith's death; don't remember that I saw them before her death.

Q.—After Edith was buried, were the children as well cared for as before? A.—There was no change, either by the husband or the wife.

Q.—Was Mrs. Strong affected by fainting spells after the miscarriage?

Objected to.

A.—I don't remember.

Q.—Was she sick at her stomach? A.—Yes, Sir.

Q.—Before or after. A.—She was always subject to sick headache; I don't know about her loss of appetite; or whether her breath was affected; I slept with her because she wanted attendance at night and she wanted me; it involved the application of these poultices; she suffered from weakness; I don't remember that she suffered from flowing or hemorrhage (excepted to;) I am unable to state the precise symptoms; the pains were constant, I suppose; I do not know that they were greater at times; I do not know that she fasted for any considerable period; I suppose she was regular at her meals, but I don't know; I didn't know that she took violent exercise just before, or that she came in from walking very tired; don't remember that she was sick in December; I don't think she was; she had sick headaches; I made a mistake yesterday in saying I had not seen Dr. Watson before March, but I did—he was attending Edith; it was the latter part of December; she was sick a week or ten days; her mother was attentive to her.

Redirect—I have been in the habit of teaching at Mr. Clarkson Potter's until this week; I came in town twice a week; I taught a daughter of Gen. Potter's up to the last week at Mr. Stevens'.

Q.—Is he a son-in-law of Mr. Stevens' the father of Mrs. Strong?

Exception taken.

A.—He is; Mrs. Strong and Edward drove and rode on horseback with each other.

Q.—What was the conduct of Mr. Strong to his wife up to the time of Edith's death? A.—He was kind to her; I never noticed any difference.

Q.—What was the conduct after the death? A.—Very different; he was cold to her; he used to stay in another room; he was in the parlor while she was in the other room; I never saw him speak to her affectionately after that; I gave lessons to the children from 10 to 12, I think, but I am not quite sure; at the time of the ringing the bell in the afternoon, the cook would be in the kitchen, the nurse in the nursery on the second story, if not out walking; at Waverley in the Strongs' room there was only one bed; nor in Twenty-first-street up to the time of Edith's death, was there but one bed in the room; after the miscarriage I saw Mrs. Strong the same day, and until the 20th of April I staid there; the "so-called" happened in March.

Recross-examination—I discontinued teaching Gen. Potter's child in the last week of September; Gen. Potter married Miss Stevens on the 29th of September; I may have taught her once or twice, but I don't remember; Mr. Strong did not visit at Islip while I was there; I was not present at Lennox when there was a gathering, and a poem called "Parisina" was read; nor when anything else, by Lord Byron or anybody else, was read; was not present at a family gathering at Lennox when something was read about a wife's revelation in a dream.

Redirect—I saw Mrs. Strong in September, 1862, at Islip, when I was with Mrs. Johnson; besides Mrs. Stevens, no other member of the Stevens family was there; I don't remember that Miss Abby or Mr. Stevens were present.

Mr. Cram—My next witness comes from the country, and owing to a misapprehension or misdirection, contrary to my understanding, she is not here. We have sent for her and she will be here in fifteen minutes. As I don't want to waste any time I offer the of which copies are being made by a scrivner, to whom I have sent my own copy—the original is here.

Mr. Graham—Let me see the deposition. In the first place, your Honor, they must show that this commission was regularly issued; it dont prove itself. By the statute the court is authorized to issue orders to a commission for the taking of testimony, and such orders shall be filed with the clerk of the court; they are bound to show that this has been done. I understand there is no order on file, and demand they shall put themselves right on the record.

The Court—Is that the only objection?

Mr. Graham—No, Sir; the next objection is this: The law says they must sign their names, indorse the certificate upon the commission and comply with other rules. This they have not done. The certificate is an independent sheet. Quoting several cases, I claim that the deposition is inadmissible, and refer also to the following decision of Justice Grover, who excluded a deposition because the indorsement was not properly made. We call first for the filing of the certificate.

Mr. McKeon—I hold in my hands a certificate of the commission (he then read the certificate, which is the ordinary form of verification) which took the testimony of Mrs. Bedell, wife of Bishop Bedell. It is by no means complete, nor does it entirely comply with nor conform to the provisions of the statute. There is no evidence that all the Commissioners were present at each sitting, nor that it was sealed before mailing, nor that they caused it to be reduced to writing. It is not the province of courts to disregard these provisions of the statute. I remember a case in which I represented the Treasury Department of the United States. The court drove me out of court because my papers did not comply with the technical provisions of the statute. Judge Betts very properly sent me out of court, and I was compelled to begin the case again. I commenced again, and, owing to a mere technicality, was again sent out, and I was compelled to take great trunks full of papers into court to present my case. I therefore insist that, however good this may be, it is not in accordance with the statute, and therefore not acceptable.

Mr. Cram—The commission is under seal of the court, attested by the Clerk, signed by the Chief-Justice, and bears the seal of the court. There is a consent written upon it, between the counsel, that it should not be filed. Therefore, I am surprised to hear the counsel's objection to it. The consent was given because we wanted to spare the feelings of parties in the suit, and the consent is on the papers, and is part of the case.

Mr. Graham—If they have a consent, let them prove it. I know nothing of it. I have been in the case only twelve days, and know nothing of what my predecessors did.

Mr. Cram—This I might have expected. I have sent for the paper, and will produce it.

Mr. Graham—I only want what is right. I propose to try the case, not you.

Mr. Cram—The court is precluded by this provision and consent, "when this commission is finished the deposition is to be sealed and sent by mail" to, &c., signed by the attorneys in the case. The statute is very meagre in its instructions; it directs the signing of the Commissioner's names in a certain way, and that has been done. (A consent was then handed Mr. Cram by Mr. Gerry.) Well, this consent may be of service to us. It shows that all the papers may be retained in the hands of the counsel without filing, unless two days' notice is given; I find that this bears the mark of my distinguished friend, Mr. Gerry, for I could not have drawn up a paper which would so completely cover this and all other imaginable cases.

Mr. McKeon—Well, we shall argue that this consent does'nt cover this particular case.

Mr. Cram—Certainly, I expected that; but I shall make no reply to that argument, except to produce the other paper and get all the good I can from it. Then, too, the indorsement is on the commission itself, and the return at the end is all that the statute demands. It begins on one of the sheets and was read to your Honor by the learned counsel. The indorsement is full, complete and usual.

Mr. McKeon—It is possible that this stipulation covers this case. I don't think it does, but my associates do.

Mr. Graham—I think so, and withdraw my objection.

The Court—I think the agreement covers the case. Go on with the other objections.

Mr. Graham—In a trial of this kind the jury should see the witnesses. There is no safety in law if witnesses can dodge the jury. In nine cases out of ten the appearance and manner of a witness on the stand serve as a window for the jury to look at his heart. As our most distinguished Judges have said, the more finished and consummate a scoundrel one is the better impression he makes on the papers. I don't mean to cast any reflections on this witness; I don't intend anything of the kind; but I do say that she has been here in this city within the past fortnight, and if not now at her mother's house, is so perfectly within reach that she can be brought here in time for the plaintiff's case. We can then cross-examine her, and the jury can see her, and the facts of the case will much more likely be put forth. In regard to the indorsement, I insist that if it is worthwhile to put any indorsement upon the commission, it is worth while to put the right one there. The forms bought at a stationer's store may or may not be correct; how often it is that we find them entirely incorrect. Inasmuch as these commissions have chosen the end of this deposition, the question is whether they have put it in the right place. A certificate must be begun on the same sheet of paper on which the deposition ends. The object of the certificate is briefly to contain all that the law requires. This certificate is proper in terms, now let us see if it is in the right place. The first certificate the Commissioners themselves condemned, and they followed it up with a second and more full and valid certificate. There was room on the last page of the deposition for the commencement of a valid certificate, and if these Commissioners wrote there an invalid one, which they follow up after with a valid one, this consent, to be sure, excuses the plaintiff from complying with certain technical rules; but I have with regret to say that the consent destroys the deposition, for without the compliance with certain jurisdictional rules we are debarred from prosecuting this witness for false swearing if we choose. We are as much without protection under this state of things as if she simply sent a written letter to this court. Again, we demand the right to see this witness, Bedell; we want the jury to see her; and if we are debarred from the witness the jury are debarred from her. It is held that no Judge can override the common law; the parties—the plaintiffs—do not lose the testimony of this witness, they are simply prevented from producing her testimony in this particular form. They can easily produce her if they desire. Is there anything in this woman's character that she can't come here? Is she too good? is there anything about her which renders her too sensitive or delicate to be brought into this sanctuary of justice? I want to have her here. I want to look inside of her, so far as I can judge by her appearance, her manner on the stand, her tongue and her actions. No. She isn't brought here, but a deposition, a missive heavy enough to break down the table on which it is placed is sent in her stead. We object that the certificate does not begin on the last sheet of the deposition. The mere bridging over of the space by an invalid certificate won't answer. If the counsel proposes to rely upon the first certificate, let them say so, and then the deposition must be ruled out; if on the second, we claim that it does not comply with the requirements of the statute. This can do no harm to the other side, for Mrs. Bedell can be brought here by them and put on the stand. We presume she is a lady and shall treat her as such, and the court will treat her as such. Then the jury can see her, and we can examine her. We can't have this kind of evidence given to the jury; we can't allow them to be prejudiced against the defendant as they have been since the opening to the present time, so that their bias will harden into conviction which we shall be unable to overcome.

Mr. Cram—Our other witness is now here, and with permission of the court I will now place her on the stand.

Mr. Cram then called Sarah Hutchinson as a witness for the plaintiff.

EVIDENCE OF SARAH HUTCHINSON.

My name is Sarah Hutchinson, and I am very deaf; I live with Mrs. Strong in Newtown—Mrs. Aletta Strong; I have lived there over forty years; I remember the birth of Edith; I was there, but don't remember the day.

Q.—Tell us what you know about Edward and Mrs. Strong. A.—Well, I remember—

Mr. McKeon—Hold on.

Witness—I left my room, and—

Mr. McKeon—HOLD ON!

(Laughter; the witness being very deaf, and quite desirous of saying something.)

A.—I came down one day about seven or eight o'clock, and one of the women—

Mr. McKeon—Hold on.

A.—I went into the pantry and thought I'd listen; Mr. Edward's door opened a little at a time, and Mrs. Peter peeped out a little at a time cautiously, and then she ran up stairs; she wore a calico wrapper; she used to wear it in the bedroom and nursery. (Mr. McKeon objected to her describing her hair.) Her hair was flying and her wrapper wrapped closely about her; I don't know where Peter was; it was before breakfast; when Edward and Mrs. Strong were together they were sociable and friendly, and were together a great deal; I saw Mrs. Peter in the same hall once or twice after that; she looked frightened; her hair was flying and I was agoing to say, Mrs. Peter, what's the matter?

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Questioned by Mr. McKeon:

Q.—How old were you when you first went to Mr. Strong's? A.—I was about 25, and lived there 40 years; I have been married; I lived with Mr. James in Cortlandt-street, and was with him when he died; I was with them when all the children were born; I nursed Peter when he was a child; all the children used to live at Waverley; when Mrs. Strong came there all the children were there; I recollect Mrs. Edward Strong, and an elegant woman she was; she died at Newtown; I wasn't there; I recollect Peter's marriage; I was there; I don't remember who married them; I don't think it was Bishop Bedell; after awhile they came to live with old Mrs. Strong; Peter was in Europe some three years; after that he returned and married; he then went to Europe; the eldest Mary was born; she is in her eleventh or twelfth year; no children were born in Europe; after they came back little Alice was born; she is eight years, I guess; she may not be over six; Mr. Strong kept horses and carriage before and after the Europe tour; of course they all kept horses; occasionally Peter amused himself with gunning, fishing and boating; he liked it pretty well; have seen him in his various dress; he took his wife as often as she wanted to go.

Q.—How often did she go? A.—As often as she wanted to.

Q.—How do you know that? A.—Well, there was the boat, and there was her husband, and all she had to do was to say she'd go, and she went.

Q.—Who lived at the house beside old Mrs. Strong? A.—The children who were married were there with their wives; they visited around the rooms, and Mrs. Peter went from room to room; I saw Edward after he lost his wife; he felt very bad about it, and showed it by being very quiet and sedate; and everybody pitied him because he lost an elegant wife; I am not very near-sighted; I can see as far off as that window; I have seen Mr. Strong put his wife into his carriage, but not into Edward's; Peter did not go to town every day; sometimes he would go by the cars, sometimes by his wagon; never knew him to go by the cars and send his wife by Edward's wagon; I slept on the same floor with Mrs. Peter; my room was next to the roof; my room was here, another room there, and her room over there; I could not see her all the time; we sat in the hall a great deal of the time; we all went where we wished to about the house; I used to go into the rooms when I wanted to; the nurses used to sit in the hall; I haven't seen Edward since the war closed; he came home once for about an hour to see his mother; I saw Edward and shook hands with him; Mary was there; we were all glad to see him home safe from the war; I know they say a great many things about Mr. Edward, but I don't believe one-half the things they say about him, not one-half [laughter;] I wear spectacles; I don't know when Edward will be back; Peter lives with us; I may see him every day; I have seen them all at the table; I never was in the dining-room when they said "grace;" I am very deaf and don't go in; sometimes Mrs. Lynch and Mrs. Peter would read to them and Mr. Peter; Edward was always there; he went to church very regular, and attended Sunday-school; Peter went to church, but didn't attend Sunday-school; I never told Peter what I did see, for I was afeared to tell him; it was about six months after Edith's birth.

A recess was then taken of forty minutes for lunch. At the

AFTERNOON SESSION

Mr. Cram proceeded to read the deposition of Mrs. Bedell, which was previously broken in upon by the introduction of Mrs. Hutchinson. The course of procedure involved first the reading of an interrogatory; second, the reading of the answer, each of which was generally broken up by objections of counsel, arguments pro and con, and the decision of the court. The entire document was not concluded at the close of the session, and for that part which was read we have not room in detail, but present a careful synopsis, as follows:

First Answer—My name is Julia Bedell; I am 44 years old, and live in Gambier, Ohio; my husband is Gregory Thurston Bedell.

Second Answer—I know both parties; have known Peter since my birth, and Mary since a few weeks before her marriage.

Third Answer—About the middle of August and October I talked with Mary Strong; I had only these two interviews in 1862; the first lasted three-quarters of an hour, the last two hours; we were alone; the first was at Waverley, in New-York, and the other at Mr. Foster's, in Fifteenth-street.

Mr. Graham objected to the fourth question, which desired the subject of the conversations with Mrs. Strong. He said you could not give the witness the privilege of impression at first, but only when he fails to recollect the word. A witness who can state the conversation cannot be permitted to give the substance. The last branch of the question is suggestive, as it introduces the name of Peter Strong. The question should demand only the conversation.

Mr. Cram—The interrogatory calls for the recollection of the witness, and tells her to answer fully. This she does. No witness can give more than the substance of a conversation long since passed.

Answer admitted by the court and exception noted.

Mr. Graham—I now object to the whole of the first paragraph, because it characterizes the conversation. (It was stricken out.) I now desire to state that this has been pumped from the witness while under duress. I propose showing that under the pretence of religious sympathy, and while listening to the quotation of the most beautiful texts in the Bible, this lady was drawn into the most beautiful trap ever baited to catch a rat. I call the attention of this to the court, so that the mind of the jury cannot be poisoned in advance. I have carefully marked the passages, and will call your Honor's attention to it.

Mr. Cram—I object to this cross-examination of a witness. It is irregular and I must object to it.

Mr. Graham—I can show that this woman was pumped while looking for religious sympathy. It's dreadful to read it. I object to the fourth interrogatory. If this lady had been in the confessional, she couldn't have been more completely pumped than she was. You might as well summon here a Catholic clergyman, and have him tell what he learned from his church attendant. She was put under the impression that a candid confession was good for her soul. Under the case of Forrest vs. Forrest, you control this case now, and it rests entirely upon your own conscience, and unless you mean to send to the jury evidence wrung from this unhappy woman by religious sympathy, you can't permit this to go in. Mrs. Strong was not informed by Mrs. Bedell that what she might say would ever rise up against her, and I show that she plied her with religious texts, and told her that though her sins were like scarlet they should be made white as snow; that the second conversation followed the first, and was procured by the plaintiff; that she artfully turned the conversation upon the points that would benefit her brother's case. Why should the law exclude the evidence of the confessional—it's because at such times one is not careful of consequences. In the Episcopal Church there is no priestly confession; they confess to one another, and this is the case here. One of the most flagrant wrongs ever known was done here by this Mrs. Bedell, and instead of thinking she was confessing to a witness, she was confessing to her God. This was an equitable action, and confessions made in the course of religious discipline cannot be admitted in this or any other court.

Judge Garvin—I think the evidence is competent.

Fourth Answer—She expressed her great anxiety to do her duty to her husband and children, and that he would live with her, although he had a right to separate from her, and take the children away, occupying different rooms, and if necessary, sitting at different tables, meeting only when the exigencies of housekeeping require it. She said Peter was uncertain as to how long he could thus exist; any day he might feel it his duty to take the children away and live away from her. In the second conversation she spoke of continued repentance for her sin, thought she was forgiven by her God, sometimes at peace then in doubt; that although for many years she had lived in the same house with Edward, attending the same church and Sunday-school, she had never felt any improped sensation toward Edward until when one evening her hand touched his, and a thrill of emotion went through her frame, and she was irresistibly led to attract his attention, which she easily did; he reciprocated her regard, and after a little they went down together in the course of sin. It was easy to arrange interviews, as Peter went regularly to New-York, having business, while Edward had none, and spent his time in walking, driving, &c. She went occasionally to Edward's room, and on one occasion Peter knocked at the door, asking a question, which Edward answered without opening the door. The reason why the family discovered nothing was that they were entirely unsuspicious and did not notice their intimacy. She thought Peter's love and her's had become cool toward each other before the curse of sin. To this I objected, saying I never could forget his love at the time of their engagement. She said her father had not done as he promised in giving them an allowance, as he had to his other daughters, to assist them in housekeeping. She did not think if Peter loved me, he would throw it up to me so often, for it's not my fault. I remember she said one time when I wrote him a note I misspelled a word, and he ridiculed me saying I had married too young and ought to go to school. She said she would accept any proposition rather than break up their home; he was very uncertain as to his plans, and this embarrassed her; she would do anything rather than have a divorce; she wanted to live at old Mrs. Strong's, and convince her by her course that she truly repented of her impatience and sin, and would do anything she could to reinstate herself; she said, "Peter is very much mistaken if he thinks I will take care of the children unless he lives with me; I can tell him I will not; I will send them back to his mother's." She had something to tell me, and said she had of her unborn child, and for several moments neither of us spoke; she said, "Do you think it very wrong, Julia?" She felt bitter at the time because she did not know whether Edward or Peter was the father of the child; I then asked her to kneel beside me as she had often done when we were first married; I then gave her some refreshment.

Mr. Graham then objected to the reading of letters that had been destroyed by direction of Peter.

Fifth Answer—I received letters after January, 1862, from Mary, some at Gambier and some at Waverley; I was at Waverley on a visit to mother; they were all written by Mary, whose hand I know; I received three at Gambier before July, 1862; I received two notes at Waverley from her; they are all I remember; they are not in my possession; I destroyed them myself at my residence, in pursuance of an understanding between Mary, Peter and myself, in order to prevent a premature disclosure of the crime.

Mr. Graham—I object to this. When they agreed to destroy these letters, they meant to destroy the evidence.

Objection overruled.

Continuation—What I mean by an understanding, is that they asked me to destroy their letters, as they would mine, so that Mary's crime need not be known. This was what I understood to be their wish.

The sixth question was about the contents of the letters.

Mr. Graham—This question is evidently improper in form. They must state the contents from recollection, and if she can't do that, she may give the substance.

The court decided that the matter was competent. Objection noted.

Mr. Graham—We object, also, that a party can't first destroy a writing and prove it on parole. The plaintiff having procured the destruction of these letters, can't prove them by parole. I refer to Blade and Nolan. Two of these letters, one eight pages long and the other twelve, she crowds into four pages. How do we know that this Mrs. Bedell is honest in her oath? She has us bound hand and foot in the fiery furnace she has prepared and lighted for us. We are entirely at her mercy. She destroyed these letters and now comes to us with her recollections of them. She may have recollected only such portions as she desired to remember. We don't know and we have no one's oath to substantiate the accuracy of the statements made. God knows this woman, Mrs. Bedell, has by her oath done injustice and harm enough to the defendant. For four days now this sort of thing has been going on, and this kind of evidence must necessarily affect the minds of the jury. I object to it in toto. We claim the right to see this witness, to see these letters, and to examine her under oath concerning them if they are destroyed. Peter certainly procured their destruction and got the evidence away—evidence which he evidently would not dare produce before the jury, and now he seeks to benefit by the testimony of a partner.

Mr. McKeon—The defendant could not deny her connivance in the destruction if she was here, and it was most clearly the act of the plaintiff and his witness. Why, then, have they the sole right to benefit by it? Their admission is clearly improper.

Judge GARVIN charged the jury not to speak with any one, to form no opinion on the matter, but to return to the jury-box to-day at 10 o'clock, instead of 11, as hitherto.

A New and Important Question of Practice.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM—NOV. 28.

Before Justices Ingraham, Leonard and Barnard.

Bailey et al. vs. Lane et al.—This was a motion to dismiss an appeal from an order entered upon the Judge's minutes at the Circuit, denying a motion for a new trial. The plaintiffs had judgment, but no appeal was taken from it. A case was made, and seemed to bring up for review the evidence on a motion for a new trial. The motion now made was upon the ground that no appeal lies from the order denying the motion for a new trial on the Judge's minutes, unless an appeal has been taken from the judgment, and that the appeals are dependent. The motion was opposed upon the ground that the appeals were independent and distinct, and that no appeal from the judgment was necessary (under Sec. 264 of the Code.) The court so held. This was a reargument ordered by the court and presents a new question of practice. Motion denied without costs.

Mr. Freeman for the motion; Messrs. Cronin and Crary opposed.

Important to Gas Consumers.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Before Justices Ingraham, Leonard and Barnard.

The People ex rel. vs. The Manhattan Gas Light Company.—This was an application for a mandamus to compel the defendants to furnish gas to the relator under his deposit of $10. After furnishing the relator gas for nine months under the deposit, the company discovered an old bill unpaid, for gas furnished to a tenant of the relator, and upon demanding the same, the relator did not pay, and the company took away his meter and refused to supply gas until the arrears due upon the old bill for gas supplied to a different house were paid. Whereupon this application was made, and the merits of it were thoroughly argued. Judge Ingraham observed upon the argument, that this court had held in the case of the Gramercy Park House vs. this Company, that the writ would issue to compel the supply of gas. Decision in this case was reserved.

P. Cronin, for the motion; Judge Bonney and Mr. Adams, opposed.

Application for the Extradition of a Fugitive from Canada.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

Before Commissioner Osborn.

In the matter of the application of the Government of Great Britain for the extradition of George Gustoff, an alleged fugitive from justice.—This application was made by the British Government, through their Consul at this port, for the return of one George Gustoff, who is charged by the Canadian authorities with an attempt at murder. The original depositions, which were read in evidence by Mr. F. F. Marberry, counsel for the English authorities, show that the prisoner, on the 3d of October, 1865, at Toronto, Canada West, attempted to take the life of Alexander McKinnon, a bookseller of that place, by administering to him prussic acid and other poisons.

Mr. McKinnon's deposition set forth that on the day in question the prisoner and another man came into his store and made some small purchases, for which they offered in payment a ten dollar bill. In making change he exposed to view a considerable sum of money. Prisoner then went out of the store, but returned after a few moments' absence, and producing a bottle, asked Mr. McKinnon to have a drink. Deponent poured out some liquor from prisoner's bottle, drank it, and almost instantly fell senseless to the floor.

The evidence of a surgeon and chemist of Toronto, to whom the remaining contents of the bottle had been submitted, was then read. The deposition stated that an analysis of the fluid mixture proved that it contained chloroform and prussic acid.

At this stage of the case Mr. Stewart, counsel for the prisoner, objected to the reception of these affidavits as evidence, unless they should appear to be properly authenticated by the signature of an American Consul, as required by act of Congress. A long discussion ensued, followed by the admission of the documents under the testimony of Mr. McNab, a Canadian barrister, who was able to swear to the signature of the foreman of the Grand Jury, which was indorsed on the papers, and also that he had received them himself from the County Court in Toronto.

Mr. McNab further testified that he knew the prisoner; that his right name was Schmidt, and not Gustoff; that he had or claimed to have received the degree of Doctor of Medicine from a college in Philadelphia, and that his father resided in this city.

The case was adjourned in order to procure the attendance of other witnesses.

Decisions.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM—NOV. 28.

By Justice Moncrief.

By Judge Cardozo.

Glany vs. Schneider.; order for bill of particulars will be granted. Comean vs. Kiesenberger; motion denied, without costs.

Court of General Sessions.

Before Judge Russel.

The November term of this court closed yesterday with the trial of two important cases—those of John Tilman for rape of a child, and Charles Allen.

Allen was indicted for stealing from a store in Church-street a piece of black lace valued at $100. The proof against the prisoner was conclusive. The jury convicted him, and he was sent to the State Prison for two years. The mercantile community are thus rid of a notorious and successful shoplifter.

A negro named John Tilman was placed upon trial upon an indictment charging him with committing a rape upon Lelia Bevens, a child five years of age. Mr. District-Attorney Bedford, in his opening, said that the prisoner was charged with one of the darkest crimes known to the law. The facts in this case were few and simple. The little child, appearing here as the witness for the people, would tell a tale full of dastardly wickedness.

The child was then brought into the court-room in the arms of her mother, and, after an examination by His Honor Judge Russel, was sworn as a witness. She testified that she knew the colored man sitting in the court-room; that on last Sunday morning she was sitting in the dining-room at her mother's house, reading a book, when this negro came into the room and stood beside her. Witness then described the manner in which the outrage had been committed. The child further testified that the outrage was repeated on Monday, and that the negro told her that if she informed her mother of his acts she would be whipped half to death.

Her testimony made out most clearly all the elements of the crime charged, with circumstances of aggravation.

Mrs. Eliza Bevens, the mother of the child, described to the jury the condition of the child's injuries.

Eustace Detective testified, that after he arrested the prisoner he caused him to be examined by a surgeon, and found him to be affected with a combination of the worst diseases.

Dr. Mott testified that he was Mrs. Bevens' family physician; that he had made a medical examination of the child and found her most cruelly injured.

No defence was attempted by the prisoner's counsel, and without leaving their seats the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. In passing sentence, His Honor Judge RUSSEL, remarked that the prisoner had been proven guilty of one of the most atrocious and aggravated outrages that he had ever had before him. His only regret was, that the alteration lately made in the law, prevented him from incarcerating Tilman for life. He should, however, impose the highest sentence allowed by law, and send him to the State Prison for twenty years. A few other unimportant cases were disposed of, and the court adjourned for the term.

Court of Special Sessions.

Before Justices Kelly and Dowling.

A NEW WAY TO PAY BOARD.

Julia Rodgers keeps furnished rooms in Grand-street. When application is made for accommodation there by man or woman, or both, she never asks for a reference, being perfectly satisfied with the rent of the room paid in advance. A week, last Monday, Georgiana Ford and Thomas Brown, city travelers, hired a furnished room from complainant and paid one week in advance. Mrs. Rodgers testified that she paid daily visits to her rooms to see that she had not been robbed. On Sunday last she looked in at the rooms of defendants, and found everything undisturbed. About 3 in the morning she saw Brown go out with a very large bundle, and when daylight came she went up to the room to see how matters stood, and discovered that bedding to the value of $25 had been stolen. When the defendants took possession of the room, she did not see them bring a solitary parcel, and hence she concluded that the bundle carried out was her property. Very probably it was; but at the same time there was a probability of innocence, from which the accused benefited, and the case was dismissed.

NEW USE FOR BURGLARS' IMPLEMENTS.

Edward H. Walters, aged 26, a fashionably dressed gentleman, but a noted hotel thief, was charged with having burglars' tools in his possession to commit a felony. Officer Wm. H. Irwin, of the Twenty-seventh Precinct, said that on the 26th of November, about 8 o'clock in the morning, he was called into the Cortlandt-street hotel to make an arrest. In trying to get into the room it was found to be locked, but after knocking at the door it was opened by the prisoner, who was partially undressed. He was searched but nothing was found on him; the bed was then searched, and under the mattress was found the subject of complaint—some skeleton keys, a pair of nippers, used by hotel thieves to catch the key when left in the door and turn it, and a reamer, an instrument that is used to bore a hole in the panel of a door, after which an instrument is inserted that withdraws the bolt. All these instruments were found tied up in a handkerchief, and concealed under the bed which prisoner is supposed to have slept on. On finding these instruments the officer put them in his pocket and handed the handkerchief to the thief, who took it and put it in his pocket. At the station-house the ideas of Walters brightened up, as he stated there, when examined, that the handkerchief didn't belong to him. Had he declined to take the handkerchief when offered him he might have raised a legal doubt of his guilt, as then it was quite possible that some former thief had put these things under the bed, but the thought struck him too late to be of service. Beside, this circumstantial evidence, a Mr. William Clinton, a guest in the house, who occupied room No. 23, (prisoner's room was No. 29,) said that during the night he was awakened by a noise at his door. Listening, he heard something like nippers snap two or three times, the key failing to turn under the pressure. Then another instrument was inserted into the keyhole, when he got up and struck a light, and the soft, light tread of a foot was heard receding in the direction of Room No. 29. The officer was cross-examined at some length to show that dentists used these instruments.

Counsel (holding up the nippers)—Did you never know that this instrument was very frequently used by dentists? [Laughter.]

Court—Or this (the reamer) that would split the jaw to pieces?

Witness—Oh no, sir. [Renewed laughter.]

The prisoner was found guilty, and sent to the Penitentiary, and fined $50.

TUESDAY, Nov. 28—P. M.

The price of Gold was further advanced to-day by speculation in the Gold Room, and sales were at one time made as high as 148⅝@½ ℔ cent. At a later hour, after the Foreign news via Portland, and on the dull closing of Bills on London for the Persia's outward mail to-morrow, the price was less firm and stood 148 ℔ cent. at 3 o'clock. It was not a little remarkable on the Street that, while Washington rumors were current of a contraction policy to be foreshadowed by the Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Gold Room was seemingly acting on the idea of expansion. It is possible that in the one case contraction of Legal Tender is meant; in the other the expansion is to be of National Bank Currency. We doubt whether anything is really known, as yet, either here or at Washington of the practical financial measures which the Secretary will resort to, under the advice of Congress, and the situation, this Winter, of the Money Market. The rational belief is that he will have to be content with what he can do, under the circumstances that surround the Currency, the Money market, and his own temporary debt, (including his deposits on 10 days' notice,) not what he would do, under different circumstances, in furtherance of the conservative view which he has heretofore expressed and will probably repeat in his forthcoming Report.

Exchange on London was done to-day at 109⅛@109 ℔ cent., first-class bills. Paris was f.5.17½ to the dollar. There was less business for the Persia than looked for yesterday.

Money in good supply to the Brokers at 7 ℔ cent., with rather better employment than yesterday, on a larger business at the Stock Exchange.

Government Securities opened under the depression of Monday afternoon, but partially recovered after the first regular Board, and the 7-30s and old 5-20s closed in request.

The Railway speculation took much the same course, but improved more rapidly as the day advanced. At the Second Board prices were generally higher than the closing sales of Monday, and later in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, continued steady; leaving off about as follows. The business of the day was materially larger in amount, and the tone of the market decidedly better than on Monday. Gold left off 147⅞ ℔ cent.

The following particulars of the settlement of a long pending legal controversy between the Michigan Southern Company and their Guaranteed Shareholders are published, as on authority, and will doubtless be received with satisfaction by all the interests concerned. The entire withdrawal, by conversion, of the Guaranteed Stock, on the terms now made, will undoubtedly promote the future substantial and reliable value of the Common Stock:

"Under authority given by a resolution of the Board of Directors of the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad Company, on the 20th of September last, the Finance Committee is settling with the holders of the guaranteed stock as follows: In settlement of all claims for back dividends, the holders receive Forty (40) per centum in Common Stock. On the conversion of the guaranteed stock that has been thus settled and assented into Common Stock, the Company give one share of Common Stock and thirty-five (35) dollars in cash, for each share of guaranteed stock surrendered. Thus the holder of 100 shares of guaranteed stock gets in exchange therefor, 140 shares of Common Stock, and $3,500 cash. All settlements and conversions to be made prior to the 15th day of January next. Nearly one-half of the guaranteed stock has up to this date been so assented, converted and canceled."

The report of earnings from the office of the Company from the 1st of March last, the beginning of the current fiscal year, to the close of the third week in November are:

March 1 to Nov. 25, 1865..........	$3,621,574
March 1 to Nov. 26, 1864..........	2,964,058
Increased earnings..........	$657,516

Mr. WILLIAM H. PENDLETON, of the Stock Exchange Board, has established, with Messrs. MORTIMER L. FOWLER and WILLIAM H. OSGOOD, a new house, in the Commission Stock line, at No. 44 Broad-street, under the style of FOWLER, OSGOOD & PENDLETON.

The receipts of the Marietta and Cincinnati Road from the 1st of January, the beginning of the current fiscal year of the Company, are:

Jan. 1 to Nov. 25, 1865..........	$1,080,855
Same period 1864..........	900,392
Increase..........	$180,463

The day's business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States was as follows: Receipts, $3,580,068 37; including for Customs, $328,000; payments, $1,015,915 07; on account of Loan, $195,000; balance, $70,762,963 87; Coin certificates, $825,000.

The New-York Guaranty and Indemnity Company, No. 14 Broad-street, organized under State law, is now prepared to make cash advances on Produce, Merchandise, Government and other securities on favorable terms, as announced through our advertising columns. This new enterprise commences business with a cash capital of two million dollars, and under very competent management, the directory being composed of some of our foremost bankers and merchants. Its executive officers are Messrs. SAMUEL D. BABCOCK, (of the banking firm of BABCOCK, BROTHERS & Co.,) President; JAMES P. WALLACE, (of the Provision house of WALLACE & WICKES,) Vice-President; and SAMUEL G. OGDEN, (late Auditor of the Customs at this port,) Treasurer.

The Currency and Foreign Trade.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The inconvertible position that the longer an earnest movement toward the resumption of specie payments is postponed, the deeper will the evils of an inconvertible currency penetrate our public and private financial affairs, and the more difficult will be the future movements toward resumption, ought alone to be reason enough for immediate and earnest action on the part of Congress.

But when the posture of our foreign trade is also presenting such a favorable opportunity for early action upon this subject, as will probably not occur for a whole year, if then, the necessity for early action is imperative indeed.

I have examined into the facts of our foreign trade for a period embracing the last four weeks, and find them to be as follows:

Merchandise imported at New-York from foreign countries, (gold values)..........		$24,130,739
EXPORTED TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES:
From New-York, including 55,847 bales of cotton..........	$24,173,939
Deduct one-third, to reach the gold value..........	8,057,979
Gold value of merchandise.....	16,115,960
Exports of coin and bullion.....	2,023,101
Gold value of exports from New-York..........	18,139,061
Cotton exported from the South to Europe, in the like period of four weeks, 67,386 bales, estimated at £31 sterling per bale, and $4 80-100 per £ sterling...	$10,026,280	—28,165,341
Excess of exports (in gold values)		4,034,602
Or per week..........		$1,008,650

The above does not include the imports and exports of other ports than New-York, except the exports of cotton from the South, but we may safely say that the imports of these other ports will be more than covered by the exports of breadstuffs, tobacco, petroleum, &c., from Philadelphia, Baltimore and Virginia.

As it has been the prevalent opinion here that the magnitude of our imports is the cause of the high prices of gold this month, these facts are valuable, as showing that no such cause exists.

I may be told that the receipts of cotton will fall off, but this is a matter of opinion; and I can only say that a movement toward specie payments will accelerate, while the absence of it will retard, them. At all events, there was more cotton held in Southern ports at the end of the four weeks than at the beginning.

The stock of domestic and imported dry goods in this city is now large, and both demand and prices are declining every week, so that an unusually large portion of the arrivals is going into bond. Let Congress move toward "resumption," and a wholesome economy in consumption will prevail, and imports be on a more moderate scale for the future.

If sane men can believe the statement of the Journal of Commerce, that there is a "current waste of between two and three millions per day" at the Treasury, the high price of gold and the low price of United States stocks can be easily explained. But I do not see where the Secretary can find sufficient revenue for two or three millions per day of waste, in addition to necessary expenses, and must therefore resort to a more obvious explanation, viz: a prevalent opinion in many quarters that Congress will not give efficient support to Mr. MCCULLOCH in carrying out the principles of his Fort Wayne speech.

INVESTIGATOR.

GENERAL MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Nov. 28, 1865.

PROPOSALS

GOVERNMENT SALE OF CHOICE WHISKY.

OFFICE DEPOT COMMISSARY OF SUBSISTENCE, }
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22, 1865. }

Sealed proposals, in duplicate, of the form furnished by the undersigned, will be received at this office until 12 o'clock M., on TUESDAY, the 5th day of December, 1865, for the sale of about 1,500 BARRELS OF WHISKY.

The whisky offered for sale was selected with care, and is of the first quality, especially the Rye and Bourbon Whisky, which are equal, if not superior, to any whiskies now in the market.

Proposals may be made for any number of barrels, not less than five of each lot.

Lot No. 1, consists of seventy-eight (78) barrels of rye whisky, containing about three thousand one hundred and twenty (3,120) gallons.

Lot No. 2, consists of four hundred and ninety-three (493) barrels of Bourbon whisky, containing about nineteen thousand seven hundred and twenty (19,720) gallons; and

Lot No. 3, consists of nine hundred and sixty-five (965) barrels of rectified whisky, containing about thirty-eight thousand six hundred (38,600) gallons.

The whisky will be regauged before the delivery, and sold by the "proof-gallon." It may be examined at the Subsistence Depot, Alexandria, Va., or samples can be seen and proposals obtained from any of the following officers:

Brevet Lieut.-Col. E. D. Brigham, Captain and C. S., U. S. A., Boston, Mass.

Brevet Brig.-Gen. H. F. Clarke, A. D. C. and A. C. G. S., U. S. A., New-York City.

Brevet Brig.-Gen. C. L. Kilburn, A. C. G. S., U. S. A., Philadelphia, Penn.

Brevet Brig.-Gen. T. Wilson, V. S. and Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel, Captain and C. S., U. S. A., Baltimore, Md.

Or at this office.

Payment in Government Funds, about fifty per cent. of which will be required on the acceptance of the bid, and the remainder as soon as the regauging is completed, and before the delivery commences.

No bid received from parties who have failed to comply with their contracts.

Bidders are requested to be present at the opening of their bids.

All purchases will be loaded at the government wharves, in Alexandria, Va., free of expense to the purchaser.

The usual reservation by the government in regard to bids will be observed.
G. BELL,
Major and C. S., U. S. A.

PROPOSALS FOR FORAGE AND STRAW.

QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE, }
No. 17 STATE-ST., NEW-YORK, Oct. 2, 1865. }

Proposals are invited by the undersigned for the delivery of good, merchantable TIMOTHY HAY, on board of vessels at such wharf in New-York harbor as may be designated.

The hay and straw must be securely baled, and weigh two thousand (2,000) pounds per ton exclusive of wood.

Proposals must state plainly the quantity, price, and time of delivery.

The hay and straw will be inspected by a government inspector, and weighed before being shipped.

Proposals will also be received to deliver HAY and STRAW at Washington, D. C., Richmond, Va., and Hilton Head, S. C., subject to the above requirements.

Bids will be accepted from time to time to meet the requirements of the government.

Payments to be made on delivery, or as soon [illegible] as funds for the purpose shall be received.
STEWART VAN VLIET,
Brevet Brigadier-General and Quartermaster.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

FROM EUROPE.

The steamships Nova Scotian, at Portland, and Allemannia, at this port, arrived yesterday, bringing news to the 18th inst. The correspondence between Mr. Adams and Earl Russell created apparently but little interest in England. Mr. Stephens, the Head Centre of the Fenians in Ireland, had been arrested and remanded for trial. Another Head Centre had been appointed in his place by a Fenian emissary from this country. The atrocities committed by the English soldiery in suppressing the revolt in Jamaica, excited much comment in England; the Times and Herald defend them, while they are condemned in unmeasured terms by the Daily News. The French Army is to be materially reduced. The course of Spain in regard to the South American republics is severely criticized. The evacuation of Rome by the French has already commenced.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Savannah Republican, of the 25th inst., gives an account of the arraignment, on the 24th, before Col. Sickles, of a squad of negroes charged with attacking and robbing a Mr. Holtzclaw, of that city, and threatening to take his life on Sunday last. Mr. Holtzclaw, in company with another gentleman and a colored man, were proceeding to a neighboring plantation for the purpose of exhuming the remains of a deceased son, when he was met by an armed crowd of negroes who ordered him to turn back. He and his companions did so, but they were followed by the crowd. They had not proceeded far when they were stopped by the negroes, and Mr. H. was compelled to give up his pistols and $70 in money. His companion was also compelled to give up all the money on his person. The negroes then took a vote as to whether they should murder Holtzclaw, but were persuaded not to do so by an old man among them. Col. Sickles has ordered them to be tried before a military commission.

Notice has already been given that the time for filing applications for representation at the Paris exhibition of 1867 has been extended to the 1st of January. It is important, however, that exhibitors should send in their applications as promptly as possible, as the unavoidable limitation of space assigned to each country involves a selection from the articles offered, and the earlier the agent, Mr. E. C. Derby, can learn what the contributions are to be, the more discriminate and representative will that selection be. Mr. Derby strongly urges some concerted action on the part of the manufacturers, artisans, and all interested in this matter. All such persons should bear in mind that they will have more than a year for the preparation of articles after they have secured their space and privileges as exhibitors. Mr. Derby is widely distributing the official pamphlet, which contains a classification of articles, and other information in detail, and furnishes blank forms of application.

A Washington dispatch says that no delay in the organization of the House is anticipated. The prospect is that the House will organize on Monday, and the President's message and the accompanying reports will be communicated to Congress the following day. In regard to officers, there seems to be little question of the election of Mr. Colfax as Speaker, and Mr. McPherson as Clerk. It is considered doubtful whether any members from the late insurrectionary States, with the possible exception of those from Tennessee and Arkansas, will be permitted to take part in the organization.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th reports the arrival of the United States steamer Nansemond. She reports much distress among the shipping along the coast, and among the Florida Keys. She fell in with the brig Mary E. Thompson, of Searsport, from Galveston, bound to Boston, about forty miles to the eastward of Key West. The Mary E. Thompson was without a navigator, the Captain having died the day before, and was buried about an hour before she was boarded. Lieut. Gabrielson was placed on board the Mary E. Thompson, with instructions to take her to Tybee for the purpose of being supplied with a Captain.

Libby Prison and Castle Thunder, so well known in the history of the war, will soon be transformed into storehouses again. Castle Thunder will be evacuated next week, and what few prisoners there are within its walls will be transferred to Libby Prison, which now occupies but about one-fourth of the building known by that name. The other three forts are already converted into storehouses, and are filled with produce of all descriptions.

We have news from the Brazilian squadron to Oct. 4. The flagship Susquehanna was at Rio Janeiro. The gunboat Nipsic sailed for Bahia on Sept. 22. The Juniata was at Rio Janeiro, and was to remain there for some time, as she needed repairs. The gunboat Nyack, which sailed from New-York July 22, arrived at Rio Janeiro on Sept. 19, and was to proceed to her station Oct. 5.

The Raleigh Progress of the 27th gives the following as the Congressional delegation for North Carolina: First District, Jesse R. Stubbs; Second District, C. C. Clark; Third District, T. C. Fuller; Fourth District, Josiah Turner; Fifth District, Bedford Brown; Sixth District, S. H. Walkup; Seventh District, A. H. Jones.

The question of cotton-raising in the Southern States is under active consideration by the Boston Board of Trade, who propose, for the furtherance of the object, that government aid in organizing and sustaining the laboring classes by those means and resources which more strictly pertain to it, and cannot be reached through private capital.

It is currently reported that English merchants and bankers have an eye on our Southern lands, with a view of investing large sums for the cultivation of cotton. Mr. Conway, late of the Freedmen's Bureau in Louisiana, has been requested to visit Liverpool and London to give the required information. Gen. Howard is said to favor the project.

The Hartford Post says of the late city election, which, as has been already published, carried the whole Union ticket. "The result of this day's conflict lifts the Democracy of this town clear of all official responsibilities, national, town or citywise, and they must look to other fields for public pasturage."

Hon. A. M. Harrington, Chancellor of the State of Delaware, died suddenly at Philadelphia yesterday.

We have Texas news up to the 18th inst. Gov. Hamilton has appointed the 8th of January as the day of election, and the 7th of February for the meeting of the State Convention. We get nothing later from the Rio Grande.

Mr. Seward, in a letter to Gov. Holden, of North Carolina, says the President trusts that North Carolina will promptly accept the Amendment to the Constitution of the United States abolishing slavery.

The Military Commission which tried Wirz, has not yet been dissolved, and it is considered not unlikely that Capt. Winder may be brought to trial before it.

The steamer Robert Lehr was sunk by a snag on the 22d inst., between Savannah and Augusta. This is the third loss of the kind on the Savannah river within a short time.

The question of the seizure of the French tobacco in Richmond is in process of investigation at Washington.

The trial of Commodore Craven, before the Farragut Court-martial, has been concluded. The decision has not been made public.

LOCAL NEWS.

The trial of Rachel Eberle vs. Brewster & Simonson was continued yesterday in the Supreme Court, Circuit, Part I., before Justice Peckham and a jury. The plaintiff claims about $5,000 damages for injuries done to her business in consequence of a disreputable saloon having been established in the lower part of the premises situated on Broadway, she having leased the upper part of the building for the manufacture and sale of hoop-skirts, stocking-supporters, &c. Her customers were principally ladies, and she alleges that her business was utterly ruined by reason of the acts of the defendants. Under a charge from the court the jury retired, and up to the time of the adjournment of the court they had not agreed. They will bring in a sealed verdict to-morrow.

The body of Otero, the Cuban, who was murdered in the Brooklyn City Park on Wednesday evening last, was deposited in a receiving tomb in the Cemetery of the Holy Cross, Flatbush, after appropriate services in the Church of Our Lady of Mercy. An inquest was held by Coroner Lynch, last evening, at the Myrtle-avenue Police-station, and after midnight the jury rendered a verdict against the prisoners, Gonzalez and Pellicier, and some other person or persons to them unknown. The jury also took occasion to compliment Capt. Waddy, Coroner Lynch and Roundsman Smith, for their energy in bringing the accused so promptly into custody.

In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, John Tilman, a negro of disgusting and revolting appearance, was tried for committing a rape upon Lella Bevens, a child five years of age. He was convicted and sentenced to the States Prison for 20 years. Judge Russell and the spectators present at the trial all regretted that the law did not provide a more adequate punishment for such a wretch. His crime was swiftly punished, however. The papers having been brought before Judge Dowling by District-Attorney Hutchings on Sunday, he was indicted on Monday and tried on Tuesday.

The British Government appeared before Commissioner Osborn yesterday, in the person of their Consul, and demanded the extradition of one Gustoff, charged with committing a felony in Canada and fleeing to this country. The evidence showed that Gustoff had attempted to poison Mr. Alexander McKennon, a bookseller in Toronto, by administering to him prussic acid and other poisons. The case is not yet concluded.

The case of Ann Curran, administratrix, &c., vs. The Warren and Chemical Manufacturing Company, which has been on trial in the Supreme Court, Circuit, Part II., before Justice Smith and a jury, for several days, was terminated yesterday by the jury rendering a verdict for the plaintiff of $1,500. An appeal will be taken to a higher court.

The case of charge of conspiracy to defraud the revenue, preferred against W. C. Barney and Bentham Fabian, came up for hearing yesterday afternoon before Justice Dowling, who, after listening to argument as to whether or not he had jurisdiction in the case, adjourned its further hearing till Thursday morning next, at 10 o'clock.

Yesterday morning, a man named Hugh O'Reilly, residing at No. 698 Second-avenue, had the fingers of his right hand blown off by the explosion of some materials used in the manufacture of torpedoes. O'Reilly was taken to Bellevue Hospital for treatment.

The mutilated remains of a young man named John Wescott were found lying on the New-Jersey Railroad track, at the Washington-street crossing, yesterday morning. Deceased had been on a visit to his brother at Bergen, and is supposed to have been run over by the Newark train due at 11:30 P. M.

Frederick Brendel was arrested yesterday, by Detectives Niven and Vaughan, on a charge of obtaining goods from Brumley & Kellogg, dry-goods merchants, Nos. 52 and 54 Murray-street. Having confessed his guilt, Brendel was committed for examination by Justice Dodge.

A large fire broke out in the lumber-yard owned by Tribit and Hardley, Nos. 159 and 161 Mercer-street, which destroyed considerable property, amounting in the aggregate to nearly $26,000. The fire is presumed to have been the work of an incendiary.

The third mate of the ship Messenger, lying at Pier No. 18 East River, was almost instantly killed, yesterday morning, by a fall from the foretop crosstrees, where he was at work.

The fourth day of the Strong divorce case was occupied in the cross-examination of Miss Mussehl, the evidence of Mrs. Hutchinson and the deposition of Mrs. Bedell. Case on to-day at 10 A. M.

At the Live Stock Markets this week the supply of all kinds of animals has been below the average except hogs, which are in over-stock. There were only 4,994 beef cattle offered for the week, but owing to the fact that butchers had considerable meat still on hand, and to the cheapness of pork, this number was equal to the demand. No more could have been sold without causing a decline in prices. The selling rates this week have ranged 10c.@18c. ℔ lb., estimated dressed weight, the bulk of the sales at 13c.@16c. The quality of the cattle was fair on the average, there being few choice extras, or of very poor grades. Milch cows and veal calves have both been rather scarce, but enough for the demand. Sheep and lambs are not so abundant as for a few past weeks, and have advanced about ½c. ℔ lb. since last market. Live hogs are glutting the markets, and there is a further reduction in rates of about 1c. ℔ lb., making the decline of fully 2c., or nearly 20 per cent., in less than two weeks.

Produce and Merchandise were rather more freely dealt in yesterday. Pork was again seriously depressed by forced sales. Lard was also much lower. Wheat and Corn were firmer. Petroleum was cheaper. State Flour was stiffly held. Cotton was heavy and declining. Freights were less active.

Gold left off at 147⅞ yesterday, after selling as high as 148⅜@148½. Money in good supply at 7 ℔ cent. The Stock market opened under Monday evening's depression, but subsequently improved on a larger demand for Governments and Railways.

Yesterday, $825,200 in coin were deposited in the Sub-Treasury, making a total deposit of $7,708,700 since the first coin deposit under the new arrangement on Wednesday, Nov. 15.

England and America.—Sir Morton Peto who left this city on the 1st inst., delivered a speech in Bristol, Eng., on the 13th, which was brought to us last evening by the European mails. It is largely devoted to a narration of his observations and experiences in the United States, and is at once very able, very friendly, highly eulogistic and highly enthusiastic. He told his auditors that "to understand America they must go there," and "no man of business entering life," said he, "should consider his education complete, until he paid a visit to the United States." He expressed himself as astounded beyond measure at our greatness, growth and power, as they had displayed themselves in war and in peace. On the great questions of the reconstruction of the Union and the maintenance of peace between America and England, he expressed himself as satisfied with the prospects; and the London Times' report of the speech says that a protest which he made against the Christian people of the two countries imbruing their hands in each other's blood was followed by "loud applause, the whole assemblage rising to their feet, and cheering the honorable Baronet most enthusiastically." In the same direction, the Times remarks: "Sir Morton Peto concluded his able speech by expressing a belief that England and America would in the future, now that the great blot of slavery was abolished, be better friends, and come to a better understanding; and the only thing required to accomplish that was that they should go to America as he had done, and feel their warmth of friendship as he had. [Loud and long-continued cheering."] It is probable that English statesmen and scholars will largely follow this excellent advice in the coming years.

The Approaching Session of Congress.

All eyes are beginning to turn toward Washington, which is soon to be the scene of the most important legislation the country has ever known. During the war, the functions of Congress were comparatively limited. They were exercised mainly upon supply bills for the maintenance of the war, and upon other measures that were calculated only to meet the peculiar necessities of the times. Further than that they could not well go. The utter impossibility of forecasting either the length of the war or the condition in which it would leave the country, precluded the establishment of any comprehensive and definite plans. Congress could do little else than talk vague theories and vote half measures.

The case now is bravely altered. The war is ended, and the exact amount of debt it has imposed upon us is known. The future wants of the Treasury are reducible to the closest calculations. The spirit of the Southern people has manifested itself completely in their conventions for changing their constitutions, in the character of the State officers and Congressmen they have elected, in the tone of their newspapers, in the conversations of thousands of their more important men with the President. Thus we have all the data needful for the settlement of a safe and effective method of bringing back the South to its just constitutional relations. These two great problems of restoring the constitutional operations and the financial security of the country, are the questions that specially devolve upon this Congress. Upon the way of their settlement may depend the weal or woe of the country for untold years.

Of course, reconstruction will first engage the attention of Congress. The first business in legislation ought to be and will be to determine whether the South is or is not to be kept in a governmental condition unlike that of the rest of the country; for that will have a most important bearing upon all other legislation. Yet it is not to be expected that the definite issue, whether to restore the South to its constitutional powers on the strength of what it has done since its rebellion, or whether to require from it further action and a certain period of probation, will take shape at once. It certainly will not be decided upon any such minor point as a motion pending the organization of the House, to include the names of the Southern Congressmen elect in the roll of members. The question will be opened on its own broad grounds, and in such shape that its decision will rest not upon the will of either branch of Congress singly, but upon the full agreement of both Senate and House, and the sanction of the Executive. Before the war closed, there was no little diversity and even inconsistency of action between the two branches of Congress in respect to treating particular States as within or without the benefit of constitutional rights. Representation was admitted into the Senate, which was denied by the House, and vice versa; and both branches, in one case, at least, that of Louisiana, refrained from recognizing a reinstatement which President Lincoln treated as complete. Such confusion was almost necessarily incident to the peculiar circumstances of the times. But there can no longer be any excuse for it. Both branches of Congress will square their conduct by some definite plan and policy. What that plan and policy will be, no one can yet say; but it is certain that it will not be reached without long and earnest discussion. All of the earlier weeks of the session will be occupied in settling it.

Yet it is to be strongly hoped that the debates upon this reconstruction question will not be unduly extended. The great financial questions demand as early attention as possible. It is indispensable to the business of the country that it should have some better basis for its calculations than it can find in the thousand conjectures and speculations and theories now afloat. What reduction, if any, is to be made in the national debt; what curtailment, if any, is to be made in the paper currency; what changes are to be made in the tariff; what modifications are to be effected in the internal revenue system; are all questions which have an immense bearing upon every branch of business and industry. This protracted uncertainty in regard to them is a check upon all legitimate enterprise, and operates injuriously in a thousand ways. The recommendations of the able Secretary of the Treasury, and the report of the laborious commission appointed to revise the revenue system, will, of course, have great weight with Congress; but it is too much to expect that they will be implicitly accepted. Independent theories and schemes will be generated by the score and demand a hearing. Gigantic interests, that will be touched to their hurt will struggle hard to protect themselves. There are no questions within the range of legislation more complex and more difficult of correct adjustment than those pertaining to the finances. This will be realized as never before in the task of settling the financial difficulties entailed by the great rebellion. Congress should take the work in hand with as little delay as possible, and stick to the work faithfully till a definite financial system is established—shaped wisely for its own end, and affording a permanent basis for the business calculations of the country.

Congress will enter upon its great responsibilities, we believe, with a spirit more than usually free from bitterness. The immense Union majorities in both branches—in the House not less, indeed, than one hundred—will leave little play for mere party strife. The next Presidential election is far away, and there is no other political movement calculated to heat the passions and pervert the motives. There is every opportunity and every reason for the reign of calm sense, and a single devotion to the public service. The people expect this. They will be quick to detect its absence. Should it not be found, the Union party, though now so greatly trusted, ought to be and will be held strictly responsible.

The Claims of the United States Against the British Government.

We have to-day another batch of the correspondence between Mr. Adams and Lord Russell on the question of British neutrality during the war. There are no features in the letters now published that can be called new. But there are certain points which were involved in some obscurity in the former correspondence, now made intelligible and clear. Lord Russell, in a previous communication, had stated that "Her Majesty's Government are ready to consent to the appointment of a commission, to which shall be referred all claims arising during the late civil war, which the two Powers shall agree to refer to the Commissioners." The British Minister now hastens to explain that, "if the United States were to propose to refer claims arising out of the captures made by the Alabama and Shenandoah to the Commissioners, the answer of Her Majesty's Government must be * * * For any acts of Her Majesty's subjects committed out of their jurisdiction and beyond their control the Government of Her Majesty are not responsible."

This was regarded by Mr. Adams as being so clearly an evasion of the whole matter, that, after stating in a brief note that his government had no idea of asking or submitting their claims to arbitration, he plumply asks what sort of claims Lord Russell's proposed commission would be supposed to inquire into? This pointed question the British minister was not prepared for. Mr. Adams' inquiry was dated Oct. 17; and two days later Lord Russell asked for time for the Queen's Government to consider the matter. Two weeks later, on the 3d of November, Lord Russell was still unable to give any reply to Mr. Adams' inquiry. But in lieu of a straightforward answer, he goes drearily over the same ground as to the position taken and maintained by the United States as a neutral in dealing with the claims of Portugal. Appended to this last argument of Lord Russell's are various memoranda bearing on the outfit of the different privateers—nineteen in all—in British ports. Of each such outfit there is a history supplied, which, of course, in their view, completely exonerates the British Foreign Office of any possible blame.

Now, the matter is getting, in a measure, simplified. Mr. Adams explains that he was partially misunderstood in incidentally referring to umpirage as a mode of settlement. Supposing it possible, however, that his government might agree to a commission our Minister demands to know what class or kind of claims the Commissioners would have laid before them. Since Lord Russell refuses a reference of any demands growing out of the depredations of the Alabama and kindred craft, what is there to become matter of reference? When Lord Russell answers this question which is brief and entirely to the point—we shall then know whether he is simply trifling with our Minister, or whether he intends to answer the appeal of our government in a fair and honorable spirit. He will not find it so easy as he may imagine to evade the main question at issue. If a commission is needed, there must, we take it, be something to lay before it beyond the claims of certain British speculators in tobacco at Richmond. If Lord Russell thinks otherwise, he will have to be reminded that the business in hand can be settled without the aid of any commission at all. Meanwhile Mr. Adams will doubtless allow a reasonable time for the British Minister to frame his answer.

Why Reformers should Vote for Mr. Roberts.

In the first place, Mr. Roberts is a man of large fortune, for the protection of which he is vitally interested in having an honest, economical administration of the City Government; and in this respect his interests coincide with the principles.

In the next place, he did not seek or even desire the office. He urged his friends to look elsewhere for a candidate, suggesting other names; but from the moment his own was spoken of, it was impossible to withdraw attention from him.

He has for many years been wholly disconnected with political organizations. He has, therefore, no "entangling alliances." No man in the city is more independent. His nomination being spontaneous, there are no claims to embarrass him.

In these respects his position differs essentially from that of his competitors. Recorder Hoffman is the nominee of the heads of City Departments. Under him, if chosen, there can be no Reforms. Mayor Gunther has, while in office, formed his "Ring." Mr. Hecker is the candidate of Mozart Hall, and in accepting their nomination, he assured them he would not "disappoint their expectations." Can anybody be verdant enough to expect "Reforms" from a Mayor thus groomed? Those, therefore, who want a Mayor with his hands both clean and free, whose duties, interests and inclinations harmonize, will act wisely in voting for Marshall O. Roberts.

The City Messengers.—We do not hear any complaint against the men employed as city messengers on the ground of dishonesty, carelessness or indolence. But some of them we have noticed are deplorably ignorant of localities, and we have found one or two unable to read. It is a pity to debar honest and good men from such employment on the grounds of their ignorance, but it is absolutely necessary that they should have some educational qualification. Let us hope that the number of messengers of the class we speak of will not be increased.

Amusements.

Academy of Music.—Gounod's opera of "Faust" will be given here to-night, with the same distribution that has been so acceptable heretofore.

The rehearsals of the "African" have progressed in the most satisfactory manner. The entire opera and much of the scenery was given last evening with a satisfactory degree of precision and effect. Few works have engaged more study. There can be no doubt that the "African" will be the triumph of Mr. Maretzek's season. The sweep of the drama suits his company. The music lies easily within the range of the voices, and it is so distributed that no single artist has too much to do. Every one seems to have studied the work with enthusiasm. The ensembles are perfect; the mise en scene unusually fine; the costumes varied and picturesque. Mr. Bergmann presides in the orchestra, which has been largely augmented; the chorus has also been increased.

The production of Meyerbeer's posthumous work has cost the management many thousands of dollars. It enjoys in this respect a preëminence over every other opera. There has been no attempt at puffing the work into favor. The usual devices of managers have been entirely neglected. Notwithstanding this creditable forbearance, the public interest is so great that all the seats for Friday and nearly all the seats for Saturday have been sold. It is abundantly evident that the season will end with a gallop.

Concert.—Mrs. E. A. Payne, contralto, of Calvary Church, is the recipient of a complimentary concert at Dodworth's Hall this evening. The lady will be assisted by excellent talent.

Effie Parkhurst's Concert.—The annual concert of this charming little vocalist will be given to-night at the Brooklyn Atheneum. Effie will be assisted by Mrs. Marie Abbott, the popular soprano of the Unitarian Church on the Heights, by her mother, Mrs. Parkhurst, and others.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

Washington, Tuesday, Nov. 28.

THE ORGANIZATION OF THE HOUSE.

A few additional members of Congress arrived here to-day, including Senator Trumbull, of Illinois. No delay in the organization of the House is anticipated. Instead of an extraordinary and turbulent time, as predicted, the present indications are in the opposite direction. It is considered that there is nothing in the political aspect which cannot be reconciled, both to the satisfaction of the President and of Congress. The prospect, therefore, is, that the House will organize on Monday, and the President's message and the accompanying reports of the heads of the departments be communicated to Congress on Tuesday. Mr. Colfax, for Speaker, and Mr. McPherson, for Clerk, seem to have the entire field to themselves, thus far, for reëlection. No one here, so far as can be ascertained, believes that any of the members elect from the late insurrectionary States, with the exception, perhaps, of those from Tennessee and Arkansas, will be permitted to take part in the organization of the House.

ARRIVAL OF MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.

Quite a number of Congressmen arrived to-day. Among them are Messrs. John M. Butler and Nelson Taylor, from New-York; A. B. Mygatt, of Connecticut; Senator Trumbull, of Illinois; S. A. Moulton and H. R. H. Bromwell, of Illinois; and Mr. Kelso, of Missouri, who acquired considerable prominence in that State for his uncompromising Unionism, and the relentless manner in which he pursued the murderers and bushwhackers of Missouri, twenty-three of whom he is said to have killed.

THE PRESIDENT AND MR. COLFAX.

All statements to the effect that the President has expressed dissatisfaction with Mr. Colfax's speech, are pronounced by the President himself to be without foundation.

NORTH CAROLINA—LETTER FROM MR. SEWARD TO GOV. HOLDEN.

Dr. Powell, the State Agent for North Carolina, who recently arrived at Raleigh, was the bearer of a letter from Secretary Seward to Gov. Holden, in which the following passages occur:

"The President sincerely trusts that North Carolina will, by her Legislature, promptly accept the Congressional Amendment of the Constitution of the United States abolishing slavery. He relies upon you to exercise all your functions as heretofore with the same wisdom and the same spirit of loyalty and devotion to the Union that has marked your administration hitherto. The President desires you to feel entirely assured that your efforts to sustain the administration of the government and give effect to its policy are fully appreciated, and that they will in no case be forgotten."

AFFAIRS IN FLORIDA.

A letter from a well-informed gentleman in Florida, says that there is no doubt but that Provisional Governor Marvin will be elected United States Senator from that State.

IDLE RUMORS.

Scores of people here believe that Gen. Grant has gone to the Rio Grande. To show how little foundation there is for so absurd a story, we may state that an anxious inquirer at headquarters was to-day informed by a staff officer that the General would be absent two weeks, and that his movements would be so rapid that a letter would reach him nowhere on the route.

THE CASE OF COMMODORE CRAVEN.

The case of Commodore Craven, which has occupied the attention of the Farragut Court-Martial for several weeks, was submitted to the court this morning for a verdict after the reading of a lengthy defence by the counsel for the accused. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon the court was engaged in deliberating upon a verdict, which, when rendered, will await the approval of the proper authorities before it will be promulgated. This court will doubtless be dissolved immediately, as it is understood there are no other cases to be brought before it.

PROBABLE TRIAL OF WINDER.

The Military Commission which tried Capt. Wirz is not yet dissolved, and this gives color to the report that it is to be retained, with one or two changes, to try Capt. R. B. Winder and Duncan for cruelties to the Union prisoners at Andersonville, and Gee for similar conduct at Salisbury.

AN EX-JAILOR ON TRIAL.

The late jailor of the Old Capitol Prison, Capt. Weiss, is on trial before a military commission upon charge of violating the prison rules by furnishing the Andersonville jailor, Henry Wirz, and Gen. Briscoe, who were imprisoned at the same time, with playing-cards, refreshments, &c.

AN ARMY RETIRING BOARD.

By order of the President, an Army Retiring Board has been organized, consisting of Maj.-Gens. Hancock, Meade and Hooker, Col. Simpson, Medical Director of the Middle Department, with Brevet Maj. Emeery, of the Ninth Infantry, as Recorder, who will assemble periodically at Philadelphia and examine and report upon all applications for retirement from the regular service.

RELEASE OF DESERTERS.

The Secretary of War has ordered that all enlisted men of the volunteer service now imprisoned by reason of having been found guilty of desertion, be immediately released from custody and furnished with transportation to enable them to report to the chief mustering officer of their respective States, who will furnish them with a discharge, with the facts of the case indorsed thereon, including the crime, sentence, &c., and such other papers as they may be entitled to. In cases where no pay is due transportation will be furnished them to their homes. This order will be understood to apply to all enlisted volunteers of the class in question, of whatever corps or arm of the service.

TO BE MUSTERED OUT.

The following, among other troops, are to be mustered out of service: The Connecticut Eighth and Eleventh Infantry; the Massachusetts first and fourth companies Unattached Heavy Artillery; the New-York Forty-first and One Hundred and Third Infantry, and the Pennsylvania One Hundred and Eighty-eighth and Two Hundred and Thirteenth Infantry.

DESERVED PROMOTION.

Major R. H. Wilbur, Assistant Commissary of Musters, Department of Washington, has received an appointment as Lieutenant-Colonel of Volunteers, by brevet, for gallant and meritorious service. Major Wilbur served with the Twelfth Corps, under Gen. Slocum, from its organization, and subsequently in the Twentieth Corps, with Gen. Sherman, to the close of the war. He was wounded and taken prisoner at the battle of Chancellorsville, and again slightly wounded in the battle before Kenesaw Mountain, Ga., June 22, 1864. He was for nearly three years attached to the staff of Major-Gen. Geary.

On the muster out of his regiment, (One Hundred and Second New-York Volunteers,) he was retained in service as Mustering Officer in the Department of Washington, and has since been engaged in the arduous and responsible work of disbanding the army.

Col. Jardine, late of the Ninth New-York, (Hawkins' Zouaves,) has been promoted to a Brevet Brigadier-Generalship. Col. Jardine, while endeavoring to put down the riots in New-York in 1863, was wounded and permanently disabled for field services.

VACANT CONSULATES.

The following consular positions are now vacant, viz.; Turks Islands, West Indies, salary $4,000. and Antigua, salary $1,500; St. Petersburgh, salary $2,000 Ravenna, Italy, compensation in fees; Venice, salary $1,500, and Nantes, salary $1,500.

APPOINTED CONSULS.

The following appointments of Consuls have been made since the last official list was published, viz.: L. D. Merrill, Sydney, Australia, fees; J. Covell, Prince Edward Island, salary $1,500; R. Fitzgerald, Moscow, salary $2,000; G. G. Fleurot, Marseilles, salary $2,500; L. W. Vallier, Lyons, salary $2,500; J. De La Montagnie, Boulogne, salary $1,500; A. O. Addis, Nice, salary $1,500; R. F. Farrall, Cadiz, salary $1,500; F. F. Cavada, Trinidad, Cuba, salary $2,500; J. C. Walker, St. Thomas, salary $4,000; A. W. Aerta, Don, salary $1,500; W. C. Brown, Augsburg, fees; A. C. Brown, Hanover, fees; A. Beaubonbar, Jerusalem, salary $1,500; A. Canfield, Foo-Chow, China, salary $3,500.

APPLICATIONS FOR PARDON.

Among the applications for pardon filed away in the Attorney-General's office, are the petitions of 122 ex-officers of the United States Navy, 129 rebel general officers, and 88 members of the Confederate Congress.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The total receipts from Internal Revenue since the 30th of June, amount to $146,500,000.

PATENT OFFICE BUSINESS.

The business of the patent office this year is much larger than for any one subsequent, over 500 more patents having been issued.

PERSONAL.

Major-Gen. Hancock, commanding the Middle Department, and Gen. E. McCook, are in the city to-day.

From Wilmington.

Wilmington, N. C., Tuesday, Nov. 28.

The steamer Commander sailed to-day for New-York, with cotton and naval stores.

Arrived, brig Loman, from New-York: schooners A. H. Burnett and Viola, from New-York; Henrietta, from Rockland, Me., and Hettie Rose, from New-London.

Cotton—Sales at 43½c. Resin—Mixed No. 2 to pale, $10. Spirits Turpentine dull; Crude firm, at $5 25. Tar firm, at $3 15. Timber $10@$18. Lumber scarce and in demand, at $24 40.

The schooner Henrietta, loaded with lime, which was reported on fire on the bar, arrived in port to-day. Her hatches have not been open. The Captain reports nothing serious.

An order has been issued removing all colored troops to ports on the coast. A detachment of the Twenty-eighth Michigan Regiment remains as garrison of the town.

From New-Orleans.

The steamship Guiding Star, from New-Orleans Nov. 19, 8 A. M., and Barrancas Nov. 22, arrived here last night, with the Twenty-fifth United States Infantry from the latter port.

Off Carysfort exchanged signals with bark S. C. Adams. The following report was handed me: Steamship C. Whiting, Merryman, Master, from Key West to Galveston Nov. 11. On the 12th inst. encountered a heavy gale and lost her rudder, and her boilers gave entirely out; was picked up on the 16th by the United States ship South Carolina, and towed to Barrancas, and would be towed to the mouth of the Mississippi River by the same.

Serious Affair in Wisconsin—The People Destroy a Railroad Track.

Milwaukee, Tuesday, Nov. 28.

The track of the La Crosse Railroad was torn up and a bridge burned near Germantown, eighteen miles from this city, last night, supposed to be the work of farm mortgagees, who have mortgaged their farms along the line of the road to the amount of a million of dollars, which mortgages are being foreclosed. The farm mortgagees threaten to destroy the entire road if the company fail to make provision for the payment of the mortgages. A great deal of trouble is apprehended.

Seizure of Tobacco in Louisville, &c.

Louisville, Ky., Tuesday, Nov. 28.

Last Saturday the Collector of Internal Revenue seized the stock of a manufacturer of tobacco here, for alleged frauds in returns and not keeping books as required by law. Yesterday the stock and implements of another manufacturer were seized for the same reasons. The cases are now under investigation, both in New-York, where part of the stock is held, and in this city.

The railroad depot at Lebanon was burned this morning.

From Tennessee—Respite of Frank Gurley.

Nashville, Tuesday, Nov. 28.

Frank Gurley, sentenced to be hung on Friday next, has, by the request of numerous citizens of Huntsville, been respited by Brig.-Gen. Whipple until such time as further facts in his case can be submitted to the President.

North Carolina Legislature.

Raleigh, N. C., Tuesday, Nov. 28.

Marine Disaster, &c.

Fortress Monroe, Tuesday, Nov. 28.

The schooner Velena, from Charleston, S. C., for Boston, was abandoned on the 26th inst., 150 miles off Hatteras, leaking badly, and with her rigging carried away. Her crew have arrived here.

Arrived, schooners James Henry and Jessie Leach, from Philadelphia, and Twisden, from Boston, forty-five days out.

Admission of the Virginia Members of Congress.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In common with others, citizens of Virginia, I desire, if you please, to elicit your opinion regarding the course which the Clerk of the House of Representatives is required by law to pursue, and will probably pursue, in the matter of admitting the members elect in the case of that State; a case quite peculiar in its circumstances, and separated thereby from others in which he will have to act. I therefore ask leave to advert to some of these circumstances, which satisfy me, and I believe many others, that the only question which can occur upon their admission, in the first instance, is that relative to their ability to take the prescribed oath.

The law under which the Clerk is required to act provides, in these words: "That before the first meeting of the next Congress, and of every subsequent Congress, the Clerk of the next preceding House of Representatives shall make a roll of the Representatives elect, and place thereon the names of all persons, and of such persons only, whose credentials show that they were regularity elected in accordance with the laws of their States respectively, or the laws of the United States."

In the case of Virginia, the credentials to be presented by the members elect will show, in regular form, that they were duly elected, according to the laws of the State; and under this law it is clear that to exclude them from the roll, the Clerk must first assume that the State organization is illegal, which would have sequences as to law very important and objectionable.

When the State Government of Virginia was reorganized in 1861, the question arose as to the legality of the organization effected and now operative, and was duly considered by the several departments of the government, each acting in its proper sphere. This question the executive branch, under advice of the Attorney-General, at once decided affirmatively, and in several official transactions fully recognized the reorganized State as legal, particularly in accepting officers commissioned by Gov. Peirpoint for the service of the General Government, and in paying over to that functionary forty thousand dollars on account of an admitted claim held by the State Government upon the Government of the United States—Virginia's share of the proceeds of sales of public lands, which the State had for years declined to receive.

In the Senate, the question came up in 1861, in the admission of Messrs. Carlile and Willey to fill the places of Messrs. Hunter and Mason, when the ground was taken by leading Senators, among whom may be mentioned the lamented Senator from Vermont, Mr. Collamer, whose high personal character and distinguished ability as a lawyer and statesman, command respect for his opinion, that the question as to the identity and authenticity of an organization, claiming to be received as the lawful Government of the State, was dependent on executive recognition; that, when this was accorded, it was conclusive as regards the other departments of the government. This view, which was supported by reference to decisions of the Supreme Court, seemed to control the action of the body in admitting the claimants to the seats occupied before by Messrs. Mason and Hunter as Senators from Virginia.

In 1863 the House of Representatives concurred in the recognition of the present State Government given by the Executive and the Senate, in this, that it accepted the assent of that government as supplying the prerequisite stipulated in the Constitution for the division of a State, in the case of West Virginia, whose standing in the American Union depends on the validity of the assent so accepted. In the discussion which took place on this subject, in the House, the question of the legality of the government of Virginia, then acting under recognition of the Executive Department and the Senate, was raised, but decided affirmatively by the House, Mr. Colfax coming down from his seat as Speaker to take part on the affirmative side of the debate, which he did with more than his usual ability. He opened his speech in the following words:

"Two things are required by the Constitution of the United States for the admission of the new State: First, the assent of the Legislature of the State, out of which it is to be formed; and secondly, the assent of Congress. The decision thus turns, to a great extent, upon the question whether the Governor now acting as the Governor of Virginia, and residing at Wheeling, and the Legislature to which he communicates his messages, are really the Governor and Legislature of the loyal State of Virginia. I think they are, and that the history of events in Virginia will prove the fact."

After a succinct and forcible narration of the events to which he alludes, Mr. Colfax draws the following conclusion:

"I say, then, that not only the two legislative branches of the government, but that the President of the United States, and the various members of his Cabinet, have, without dissent and without protest, as far as I have heard, by any one, up to this day, recognized Gov. Peirpoint and the Wheeling Legislature as the rightful authority in Virginia, and it therefore seems to be a settled and concluded question."

When the vote was taken, all the Republicans, with one exception, that of the present writer, voted in the affirmative, Mr. McPherson, the present Clerk, being included in this majority, as a member from Pennsylvania.

In 1864 Mr. Chase, then newly become Chief-Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, finding that the name of West Virginia had, up to that time, been omitted from the list of States, caused it to be inscribed thereon, thus affirming the constitutionality of the act admitting West Virginia on the assent thereto given by the present government of Virginia, involving, of course, the legality of the latter.

In view of these facts, is it not clear that Mr. McPherson cannot conclude to reject from his list the names of the members elect in the case of Virginia, without thereby compromising his own position in the vote given by him for the admission of West Virginia, and contravening a principle affirmed and acted on in matters of the first importance by the highest executive, legislative and judicial departments of the government.

In the foregoing I do not desire to be understood as advancing any opinion as to the ability to take the prescribed oath of the members elect in this case, which is, in fact, a matter altogether outside of that in which the Clerk is to act. When they come to be sworn, if these members cannot take the oath, the law will exclude them as a matter of course. It is understood, however, that six out of the eight are willing to be qualified according to law.

Neither would I like to be understood as suing for the admission of any Southern members of Congress to the floor of the House, to do which, if I desired it, would be altogether unauthorized. The manner in which the parties elected will act, in regard to the question of their admission, is, of course, a matter which they must decide for themselves. For my own part, however, I have no idea that Congress will be troubled by them with importunities on the subject. The point of interest is one of legal principle, concerning the organization of our highest Legislature, and a subject of serious consideration to the country at large.

The desire to induce an expression of your views in the case of the Virginia members is my apology for taxing your kindness to give place to my own comparatively unimportant opinions on the subject.

I remain, very respectfully, yours,
MARTIN F. CONWAY.

Richmond, Va., 22d November, 1865.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

Course of Popular Lectures. –A course of popular lectures will be commenced at the Lee-avenue Reformed Dutch Church, Brooklyn, on Wednesday evening next. Each lecture will be preceded by a musical entertainment. Rev. A. A. Willets, D. D., will deliver the first lecture of the course; subject, "Sunshine." Rev. Francis Vinton, D. D., will lecture on Wednesday evening, Dec. 6; subject, "The Thirty Years' War," and will be followed by Rev. H. M. Gallaher and Major-Gen. Banks. A grand organ and vocal concert, under the direction of George W. Morgan, Esq., will take place on Wednesday evening, the 3d of January.

Wood's Gymnasium—Reception Night.—Last night Mr. Wood gave his first reception this season at his Academy in Twenty-eighth-street, which was attended by a numerous and fashionable audience by whom the numerous feats of strength, agility and daring were warmly applauded throughout. A single visit to this fine gymnasium is worth a dozen elaborate lectures on the subject of muscular development.

Burglary.—Some time during Monday night the cigar-store No. 559 Broadway, near Prince-street, owned by D. Marley, was entered by burglars, who succeeded in carrying off a large amount of cigars, valued at over $700. The entrance to the establishment was effected by forcing a door in the rear of the building which led into the second floor, occupied as a gambling saloon. No arrests were made, nor was any of the property recovered.

Man Missing.—Capt. Charles Williams, of the schooner Neantic, now lying at the foot of Morton-street, North River, has been missing since Friday last, the 24th inst. Capt. Williams is 50 years of age, has black eyes and hair with gray whiskers, and he was five feet six inches in height. Any information concerning him may be left with Dr. V. Thompson, No. 41 Barrow-street.

Accident.—About 5 A. M. yesterday a man named Hugh O'Reilly, 58 years of age, who lives at No. 698 Second-avenue, had the thumb and fingers of his right hand blown off by the accidental explosion of some material used by him in the manufacture of torpedoes. O'Reilly was taken to Bellevue Hospital by Patrolman Morey, of the Twenty-first Precinct, where he was properly cared for.

St. Barnabas City Mission House.—This mission, which has been established at No. 304 Mulberry-street, is intended to supply the temporary wants of poor women and children. Since its organization in July last, 300 inmates have been received and 5,000 meals distributed. Donations of food, fuel, clothing and money are needed, and will be gratefully received.

Commissioners of Health.—A meeting of the Commissioners was held yesterday. By order of the Mayor, Drs. Sayre and Murphy made a thorough investigation as to the truth of the report that a case of cholera had occurred in Greenwich-street. They stated to the Commissioners that the report was utterly without foundation.

Sacred Music.—The Young Men's Christian Association have opened at their rooms, No. 161 Fifth-avenue, a meeting for the performance of sacred music. The second meeting will be held this evening, and will be open to both ladies and gentlemen.

Correction.—The name of Delancey W. French was erroneously printed yesterday as having been elected President of the M. O. Roberts Club, of the Fourth Assembly District. Mr. Delancey W. Knevels is the President of the organization.

Bloomingdale Roman Catholic Association. —The second anniversary of the Bloomingdale Roman Catholic Association will be celebrated on Friday evening, Dec. 1, at No. 781 Eighth-avenue, between Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth streets.

Lecture.—J. Brinkerhoff, of Brooklyn, will lecture before the North Dutch Church Young Men's Christian Association this evening. Subject—"The Old Settlers of New-York."

"The Age of Iron."—Rev. Dr. Chapin is announced to lecture to-night at the Laight-street Baptist Church, on "The Age of Iron."

Arrivals in the City.

Hon. Wm. P. Fessenden, Maine; Hon. James Grimes, Iowa; Hon. W. H. Doolittle, Wisconsin; Hon. J. M. Ashley, Ohio; Maj. J. F. Grimes, U. S. A.; Com. Stockton, U.S.N.; J. H. Orne, Philadelphia, and Capt. Alex. Hay, Philadelphia, are among the guests at the Astor House.

Hon. James E. Kelly, Croton Falls, is at the St. James Hotel.

Hon. Erastus Corning, Albany; Hon. E. B. Judson, Syracuse, and Hon. D. P. Norton, Winona, Minn., are stopping at the St. Nicholas.

T. A. Nelson and wife, Conn.; Capt. J. Brimingen, Cal.; Col. L. A. Whittlesy, U. S. A., arrived at the Metropolitan yesterday.

Gen. G. J. Ochoa, of Mexico, is also stopping at the Metropolitan.

Kings County Circuit Court—Nov. 29—Nos. Nos. 125, 132, 133, 141, 18, 95, 107, 111, 113, 114, 83.

The Sewing-Machine.

Among the greatest revolutions of modern times must be ranked that which has been effected in domestic affairs by the sewing-machine. If the steam-engine nearly doubled the sum of human life, and multiplied a thousand-fold the power of mankind, so, also, has this great labor-saving invention. How clearly was its efficiency manifested during the gigantic war just ended! How could the millions of men who were sent into the field ever have been promptly supplied with outfits without the tireless, lightning-like fingers of this little instrument?

Few who are not traveling extensively through the country are aware how universally this machine has taken the place of the old wearisome needle. Perhaps an idea of the extent of this substitution cannot be better obtained than by a glance at the magnitude of some of the manufactories. Of the number of rival establishments, let us take one of the leading ones for an example. At the Grover & Baker factory, in Boston, the machinery for turning out the instruments, stands and cabinets requires nearly five hundred men to work it. The company conduct twenty-four sales establishments, in their own name, in different parts of the United States, and in London and Liverpool, England, and in Melbourne, Australia. They have, moreover, agencies established in all the principal cities of the Old World, and in almost every village of the New World.

Now, remembering that although the Grover & Baker Company is the leading one, there are a dozen others approximating more or less nearly to it in extent of operations, and, if we combine them all in our calculations, we may obtain some idea of the astonishing magnitude of the sewing-machine business.

But a still more important aspect of the case is the beneficent mission it is performing in the myriad homes of our own and other lands. Lightening the cares of the household, taking upon itself the burden of the most exhaustive drudgery, it comes like a very angel of mercy into the domestic circle, shedding sunshine and happiness around it.

We wish we had room for the many expressions of thankfulness and satisfaction we have received from our correspondents relative to this valued "helpmeet." As it is, we can give but a single one:

"We were much disappointed," writes a country parson to a friend in the city, "at not being able to visit you; but the disappointment has been made up, at least so far as —— is concerned, by appropriating the money we had intended to use for that purpose to the purchase of a Grover & Baker sewing-machine. You may be sure Fanny is delighted; four children to sew for is no joke, and a Grover & Baker has been her dream by night and day for several years.

It is so nearly noiseless that she has placed it in my study, and so simple in its operation that she has already learned to use it with facility, and has actually so reduced that large 'pile' of small garments as to render it possible that they may some day disappear altogether.

At first I strongly objected to having it in the study, for fear of disturbance during my quiet hours, but soon found that it did not disturb me in the least, and now I can really write better with its gentle musical sound in my ears. The only difficulty is that Fanny is constantly jumping up to claim my admiration for some fresh achievement. One time it is the fine tucks in the baby's cambric frock; another time the stitching upon my shirt, or some still more wonderful result in the making of a cloth basque.

Excuse me for devoting so much of my letter to this great little machine. At present it is the principal subject of our thoughts and our conversation. It has really transformed my poor, languid, weary, overworked Fanny into something like the bright, active, cheerful girl she was ten years ago. Thank heaven for our Grover & Baker!"

This testimony, given in an indirect way, and without any idea of its reaching the public, is only one among ten thousand evidences of the high estimation in which the Grover & Baker machine is held by families who possess them. Into whatever household it enters it carries sunshine—sunshine which is not darkened by difficulties and complications and unsatisfactory results, but becomes brighter and brighter with every glad surprise, every new development of its admirable qualities.

Its mechanism is simple, but perfect; easily understood; exact in its working; true as the needle to the pole to its mission. Under its operation the delicate folds of lace and cambric assume new beauty, and the stoutest woolen a grace which adds a charm to its usefulness. Its swift, noiseless fingers are never tired, never weary, always ready to execute the will of their mistress. Under its influence order and neatness take the place of disorder and neglect, and grace and refinement find time and room to grow and expand in the humblest homes.

Its stitch is adapted to all kinds of work, the plainest as well as the finest, and every description of material used in a family, from lace to beaver cloth. It is also very elastic, and is acknowledged, for beauty and durability, to be superior to all others. Ladies say the Grover & Baker is "such a comfort," because it never gets out of order, but, in its tireless activity, becomes brighter, more beautiful and more efficient the more it is used. It has taken out more wrinkles, and beautified more women who were fast growing old and ugly, than the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It is the greatest lightener of household cares, and the richest domestic blessing of the nineteenth century. Ask any woman who uses one if it is not.—Home Journal.

A SUPERB GIFT BOOK.

CHRISTIAN BALLADS,
BY
RIGHT REV. ARTHUR CLEVELAND COXE, D. D.,
Bishop of Western New-York.

Beautifully illustrated with fourteen full-page engravings, and nearly sixty head and tail pieces, by JOHN A. HOWS.

1 vol. 8vo; morocco ant., gilt edges, $9; morocco ant., red edges, $9; morocco super extra, $9; crushed levant, $10; cloth extra, $6.

"These ballads have gained for the author an enviable distinction, and have opened his way to multitudes of hearts and homes in the Old World as well as in the New, where in cottage, castle and hall he has found the same warm and hearty welcome. * * * This work stands almost without a rival. In bringing out this illustrated edition the publishers have called to their aid the best talent. All lovers of fine books will experience a genuine pleasure in turning over the leaves of this elegant work."—Christian Times.

"We have seen nothing so beautiful as this for some time. * * * It is produced in a beautiful and attractive style. Hardly a family will consent to be without it among the choice volumes for the family parlor or sitting room. We know of nothing more beautiful for a Christmas or New-Year's present. The title-page, in medieval text, illuminated, is a marvel of beauty, while the numerous illustrations through the volume heighten the effect of true poetry and high art."—Gospel Messenger.

"We welcome with peculiar satisfaction the new and exquisitely illustrated edition of Christian Ballads, published as a Gift-Book, in their best style, by D. Appleton & Co., New-York. The volume is the best religious souvenir of the season."—Boston Transcript.

"That the ballads have lived so long, and are worthy of reproduction in elegant style is proof of their merit; and on looking over the contents we find that they are well worthy of this honor. Not alone do they breathe a beautiful religious and Christian-like spirit, there is much real and true poetry in them. * * * * It only remains to be said that the book is profusely illustrated by that talented young artist, Mr. John A. Hows."—Home Journal.

"It is a magnificent revised edition of an old favorite of the reading world. We think they are destined to remain among the permanent writings of our age, a position which is theirs through their undoubted merits."—Boston Journal.

"Has the heart of woman ever sung its own joy and bitterness more perfectly than in the "Songs of Seven?"—Geo. Wm. Curtis.

The choicest of Holiday Gifts this season will be
JEAN INGELOW'S
SONGS OF SEVEN,
ILLUSTRATED.

This justly celebrated and beautiful poem is descriptive of Seven Periods in the Life of Woman, viz.:

EXULTATION	SEVEN YEARS
ROMANCE	FOURTEEN YEARS
LOVE	TWENTY-ONE YEARS
MATERNITY	TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS
WIDOWHOOD	THIRTY-FIVE YEARS
GIVING IN MARRIAGE	FORTY-TWO YEARS
LONGING FOR HOME	FORTY-NINE YEARS

The rythms vary with the chimes of the different ages, always in tune with the joys and sorrows sung.

The illustrations, from designs by the best artists in England and America, are exquisite specimens of art, and the printing is in the best style of Welch, Bigelow & Co., of the University Press, Cambridge.

"A likeness on steel, with the autograph of the author, is also given. The face of Miss Ingelow is one to attract even in its repose. There is no fine phrenzy in it. It is calm and gentle and womanly—a little pensive, if not sad. You feel, however, that it can be lighted up with flashing emotion, quiver with sympathy, or glow with inspiration, as the moved soul bids it speak out. Its expression, as fixed by the painter, is that of serene, slightly abstracted meditation."—Boston Transcript.

PROPOSALS FOR
$200,000
"RIOT DAMAGES INDEMNITY BONDS, NO. 2,"
OF THE COUNTY OF NEW-YORK.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Comptroller's office until WEDNESDAY, the 6th day of December, 1865, at 2 o'clock P. M., when the same will be publicly opened for the purchase of the whole or any part of the sum of Two Hundred Thousand Dollars ($200,000) of the "Riot Damages Indemnity Bonds, No. 2," of the County of New-York, authorized by chapter 7, and as amended by chapter 396 of the laws of 1864, and by an ordinance of the Board of Supervisors, approved by the Mayor June 15, 1864.

The said bonds will bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the 1st day of May and November in each year, and the principal will be redeemed on the 1st day of November, 1882.

The proposals will state the amount of bonds desired and the price per one hundred dollars thereof, and the persons whose proposals are accepted will thereupon be required to deposit with the County Treasurer (at the Broadway Bank) the sums awarded to them respectively.

On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the County Treasurer for such deposits, the parties will be entitled to receive bonds for equal amounts of the par value of the sums awarded to them, bearing interest from the dates of payments.

Each proposal should be sealed and indorsed "Proposals for Riot Damages Indemnity Bonds No. 2," and the same inclosed in a second envelope, addressed to the Comptroller.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids, if considered necessary to protect or promote the interests of the county.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT.—CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW-YORK.—John B. Morris against John A. Stevens, Jr., and Margaret A. Stevens, his wife, Robert Morris, and Mary E. Morris, his wife, George A. Robbins, and Susan A. Robbins, his wife, Frances Morris, Martha C. Babcock, Francis U. Johnston, and Margaret A. Johnston, his wife, Elizabeth A. Babcock, Henry C. Babcock, and Caroline B. Babcock, his wife, Martha R. Babcock and Susan A. Babcock.—In Partition.

In pursuance of an order made by the Supreme Court in this action, and of the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given, that all persons having any general lien or incumbrance by judgment or decree, or otherwise, on any undivided share or interest of any of the parties in said action, in the lands and premises sought to be partitioned in said action, and hereinafter described, or any part thereof, are required to produce to the undersigned, Charles A. Peabody, referee appointed in this action by the above-mentioned order, at his office, number 161 Broadway, in the City of New-York, on or before the thirteenth day of January, 1866, proof of all such liens and incumbrances respectively, together with satisfactory evidence of the amount due thereon, and to specify the nature of such incumbrances, and the dates thereof respectively. The lands and premises sought to be partitioned in said action, are described as follows, that is to say:

All those two certain lots, pieces or parcels of land, situate, lying and being on the easterly side of Broadway, and which, taken together, are bounded and contain as follows: Commencing at a point on the said easterly side of Broadway, distant about twenty-nine feet northeasterly from the northeasterly corner of Broadway and Fulton-street; thence running southeasterly one hundred feet six inches to the westerly line of a lot fronting on Fulton-street, at a point distant about twenty-nine feet from the northeasterly side of Fulton-street; thence running northeasterly fifty-nine feet to the land lately occupied by and known as Barnum's Museum; thence northwesterly one hundred and three feet six inches to the easterly side of Broadway; and thence southwestwardly, along the easterly side of Broadway, fifty-nine feet to the place of beginning; the said two lots of land being now known as numbers 214 and 216 Broadway.

Also, all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, situate partly in the rear of the above-described lots; commencing at a point in the southeasterly line of said lots, distant about forty-four feet six inches from the northeasterly side of Fulton-street; thence running southeastwardly twenty-three feet; thence running northeastwardly about twenty-four feet; thence running southeastwardly about twenty-four feet; thence running northeastwardly twenty-seven feet; thence running northwestwardly twenty-four feet; thence running northeastwardly nine feet five inches; thence running northwestwardly twelve feet six inches; thence running northeastwardly thirty-two feet ten inches to the southerly line of Ann-street, as it formerly ran; thence northwestwardly nine feet nine inches; thence southwestwardly ninety-two feet one inch to the place of beginning.

Also, all that certain piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the Second Ward of the said City of New-York, and bounded and containing as follows, to wit., northeasterly, by the southwesterly line or side of Ann-st., as the same has been widened and improved, nine feet and six inches; southwesterly by land belonging to the estate of J. ARDEN, nine feet and seven inches; northwesterly by land formerly the part of Ann-st., and now or lately belonging to the Corporation of the City of New-York, four feet nine inches; and southeasterly by land formerly part of Ann-st., and now or lately belonging to the Corporation of the City of New-York, four feet and seven inches, be the same more or less, which said deed or indenture was duly recorded in the office of the Register of the City and County of New-York, on the third day of August, one thousand eight hundred and thirty, in Liber 234 of conveyances, page 478.

Dated NEW-YORK, Nov., 21, 1865.

TRADE SALESROOMS,
No. 498 Broadway, New-York,
GEO. A. LEAVITT, Auctioneer, by J. E. COOLEY.

GREAT SALE OF ENGLISH BOOKS,
TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, Nov. 28 and 29.

The largest and finest collection of English books offered by auction in this market, consigned by

Mr. HENRY G. BOHN, London, and comprising a full assortment of his valuable stock, much of which is very elegant and expensive,

THE ILLUSTRATED BOOKS

comprise some of the richest and most superb works of this class published, together with several thousand volumes of standard English editions, many of which are now scarce. This sale affords an opportunity for buyers of rare occurrence, particularly as nearly the whole of the books in the catalogue are but "remainders" purchased by Mr. Bohn during many years, and in the course of a very short time will become exhausted and entirely out of the market, and difficult to be obtained, except at greatly enhanced prices.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 29, and the following days, at 4 o'clock P. M., each day,

SPECIAL SALE,

Comprising the most popular Holiday stock, illustrated and elegantly bound gift books, standard and salable miscellaneous works, albums, quarto bibles, ambrotypes, and the best

JUVENILE BOOKS IN GREAT VARIETY.

Catalogues ready.

THOUSANDS ARE TIMELY SAVED BY Dr. KENNEDY'S skillful and improved treatment.—Private diseases cured in the shortest possible time by Dr. KENNEDY & CO., No. 195 Elm-st., New-York, without the use of mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. KENNEDY, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. KENNEDY, No. 195 Elm-st. Call, send or write.

A. M. MAURICEAU, PROFESSOR OF midwifery and operating surgeon, having over thirty years' successful practice in this city, guarantees a safe and immediate removal of all special irregularities and obstructions in females, without pain or exposure, with or without medicine. Can be consulted with the utmost confidence at his private office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York, or by mail.

Dr. A. M. Mauriceau is the author of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," strictly intended for those whose health and circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family; a perusal of which will convince any lady of his thorough knowledge of her complaints. Every lady who has it is secure from danger and imposition. Price $1. Sold at his office No. 129 Liberty-st., or sent by mail, by addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. Sold also at No. 1 Vesey-st., New-York; in Boston, No. 13 Court-st.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH regained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitutions, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D. No. 195 Elm-st. New-York.

ADVICE TO MARRIED LADIES.—MADAME RESTELL, Professor of Midwifery, having over thirty years' successful practice in this city, guarantees a safe and immediate removal of all special irregularities and obstructions in females, with or without medicine, at one interview, or by mail. Can be consulted with the utmost confidence at No. 162 Chambers-st. Her infallible French Female Pills, No. 1, price $1, or No. 2, which are four degrees stronger than No. 1, and can never fail, are safe and healthy, price $5, can be sent by mail. Also sold at the druggist's, No. 152 Greenwich-st., near Liberty-st. Madame RESTELL deems it her duty to caution ladies against imitators, who not only deprive them of their means, but their health.

MEDICAL AND SURGICAL CONSULTATIONS.—Dr. R. COBBETT can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on private diseases at his conveniently-arranged suite of offices, No. 20 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., having a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place. From Dr. C. being one of the oldest, and probably the only qualified physician and surgeon in this city who makes diseases of the genitourinary organs a specialty, he is thus enabled to guarantee speedy and permanent cures, or make no charge. Strictures of the urethra, seminal weakness, nervous and general debility treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—Dr. C.'s diplomas, in his office, as member of the New-York University Medical College, and College of Surgeons, London. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8½ P. M.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY be confidentially consulted on all diseases of a private nature. A practice of 30 years, devoted to the treatment and cure of syphilitic, mercurial and diseases of a delicate nature, enables Dr. C. to make speedy and permanent cures, no matter of how long standing the case may be. Strictures of the urethra and seminal weakness, brought on by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured or no charge made.

DR. WEST, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON—Office No. 545 Broadway, New-York, desires to inform those seeking medical advice, that he devotes his time specially to the treatment of diseases of a private nature; the various forms of which he from long practical experience is well acquainted with, enabling him to guarantee a cure in all cases. Particular attention paid to diseases arising from self-abuse or excesses, nervous debility, &c. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE FOR FEMALES, No. 7 Beach-st., New-York, conducted by Dr. DURANT & CO., is fitted up elegantly, expressly for the convenience of ladies requiring nursing during confinement, and the utmost attention is paid to the comfort and welfare of the patient. The strictest confidence always observed. Competent nurses in constant attendance.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROP are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in case of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations! Purchased directly of Dr. POWERS, No. 195 Elm-st., New-York.

PILES, VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, FISTULA, RUPTURE—Their modern treatment and radical cure—SCALPEL No. 46, edited by EDWARD H. DIXON, M. D., 64 pages, elegantly printed cuts; 50 cents. EVERARDUS WARNER, Vesey-st., Astor House, or Box No. 3,121. For full set of the SCAPEL in volumes, (six—pages 500 each,) at $18, apply to the Editor, No. 42 5th-av. Office hours from 1 to 3, and 7 to 9 evenings.

STRICTURE, NERVOUSNESS, INCAPACITY for business or pleasure, nervous and sexual debility, spermatorrhea, seminal gleet, timidity, palpitation, dyspepsia—their true causes and remedy, are clearly described in Dr. Ralph's new work SEMINALIA. Sold at No. 1 Vesey-st. or No. 80 Amity-st. Price $1. Contents table sent free.

MADAME GRINDLE, FEMALE PHYSICIAN, No. 6 Amity-place, can be consulted on all diseases of females. Pleasant rooms for ladies who desire to remain during treatment. They can always rely upon the most skillful management of their cases. Relief in the most obstinate cases guaranteed.

DR. DURANT OFFERS, WITH CONFIDENCE to the ladies, his celebrated remedy for the removal of all irregularities or obstructions; relieves after all other so-called remedies have failed. Ladies, try it. Office No. 7 Beach-st., New-York.

NO GROPING IN THE DARK AFTER reading the new edition of that illustrated medical work "Human Frailty," by Dr. H. A. BARROW, No. 194 Bleecker-st., four doors from Macdougal, New-York. Price 25 cents. Mailed free. To be consulted daily.

MRS. DECOLAM TREATS SUCCESSFULLY all those consulting her as her testimonials will prove; she guides the young; the married are made happy; in business her advice is valuable; if sick, discovers the cause and the remedy. Apply at 910 Broadway.

BALSAM COPABIA AND MERCURY discarded—Samaritan's Gift. Cures in from two to four days. No exposure; no trouble. Male packages, $2; female, $3. Sold at No. 21 Park-row, and by druggists.

DR. HUNTER'S BOTANIC CORDIAL restores the vigor of youth in four days. Gives health, strength and vigor to the most shattered system. $5 a bottle No. 3 Division-st., New-York, the only place.

DR. DURANT INSURES THE LADIES a speedy relief from all special irregularities and obstructions at one interview. No. 7 Beach-st., New-York.

GENTLEMEN CAN, WITH CONFIDENCE consult Dr. LEWIS, at his old-established office, No. 7 Beach-st., three doors from West Broadway, New-York

MANY THOUSANDS ARE RUINED BEYOND REDEMPTION in this life by not calling on Dr. HUNTER sooner or later. He can cure the worst cases of secret disease in a shorter time than any other physician, or no pay taken. Skeptics and doubters will please call and read lists of reliable certificates of cures made within the last thirty years of almost hopeless cases, that had had the benefit of dozens of our most eminent physicians and surgeons. Dr. Hunter is in constant attendance from 8 in the morning till 9 at night, at his old office, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, since 1834. Charges moderate, and a cure guaranteed. Separate rooms, so that the patient sees no one but the Doctor himself. His wonderful medical discovery, DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures private diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, and possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. This is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. $2 per vial. Book, 50 pages, gratis, on nervous debility, causes of impotency, marasmus, &c.

MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS,

MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, NO. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO-FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

Messrs. CHICKERING & SONS are sole agents for the celebrated Alexandre Organs for the United States.

THE MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.—FORTY-FIVE GOLD or SILVER MEDALS or OTHER HIGHEST PREMIUMS have been awarded M. & H. within a few years, and TEN within the last four weeks, for THE BEST INSTRUMENTS OF THIS GENERAL CLASS.

Printed testimony is presented in their circulars from more than two hundred and fifty of the most eminent organists and musicians in the country that THE MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS ARE UNEQUALED. Prices, $110 to $600. Warerooms No. 596 Broadway, New-York.

STEINWAY & SONS'

GRAND, SQUARE AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES,

are now acknowledged the best instruments in America as well as in Europe, having taken thirty-two First Premiums, Gold and Silver Medals, at the principal fairs held in this country within the last ten years, and in addition thereto they were awarded a First Prize Medal at the Great International Exhibition in London, 1862, in competition with two hundred and sixty-nine pianos, from all parts of the world.

Among the many and most valuable improvements introduced by Messrs. STEINWAY & SONS in their Piano-fortes,

THE SPECIAL ATTENTION OF PURCHASERS.
is directed to their
PATENT AGRAFFE ARRANGEMENT.

The value and importance of this invention having been practically tested, in all their grands and highest-price square Piano-fortes, and admitted to be the greatest improvement of modern times, they now announce that they have determined to introduce their "Patent Agraffe Arrangement" in every Piano-forte manufactured by them, without increase of cost to the purchaser, in order that all their patrons may reap the full advantage of this great improvement.

Extract from the testimonial of the most distinguished Artists to STEINWAY & SONS:

Among the chief points of the uniform excellence of the STEINWAY Pianos are:

Greatest possible depth, richness and volume of tone, combined with a rare brilliancy, clearness, and perfect evenness throughout the entire scale, and, above all, a surprising duration of sound, the pure and sympathetic quality of which never changes under the most delicate or powerful touch

We therefore consider the STEINWAY Pianos in all respects the best instruments made in this country or in Europe, use them solely and exclusively ourselves in public or private, and recommend them invariably to our friends and the public.

S. B. MILLS, WM. MASON, A. H. PEASE,
ROBERT GOLDBECK, ROBERT HELLER, F. L. RITTER,
HENRY C. TIMM, WM. BERGE, THEO. EISFELD,
GEO. W. MORGAN, E. MUZIO, C. BERGMANN,
THEO. THOMAS. CARL ANSCHUTZ, MAX MARETZEK.
And many others.

Interesting News from the Continent.

PORTLAND, Tuesday, Nov. 28.

The steamship Nova Scotian, Capt. WYLIE, from Liverpool at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the 16th, via Greencastle on the 18th inst., having been detained at Londonderry on the 17th for the mails, arrived here at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon. Her dates are five days later than those already received.

The steamship St. Andrew, of Guion's line, was to leave about the same time as the Nova Scotian, for New-York via Queenstown.

The steamship City of New-York, from New-York, reached Queenstown on the evening of the 15th instant.

The American ship Addison, from Bassein, 148 days, was spoken on the 21st of October. Forty-five guineas premium had previously been paid as insurance upon her.

The steamship Hansa, from New-York, arrived at Southampton on the 16th inst.

The Hibernia arrived at Greencastle on Tuesday morning, Nov. 14.

The Tyne Queen, from New-York, arrived at Liverpool, Nov. 13.

The Jasper, from New-Orleans, arrived at Liverpool, Nov. 12.

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE SHENANDOAH.

The Times Nov. 13 says: "The formal transfer of the Shenandoah to the Federal Government and the release of her officers and crew have been followed by the publication of Capt. WADDELL's letter to Lord RUSSELL. The consummate assurance displayed in this document is, to say the least, quite as unprecedented as the position in which Capt. WADDELL, by his own account, finds himself placed. One peculiarity of this narrative is that it contains no allusion to the ruse by which the Sea King was converted into the Shenandoah, and equipped from, though not actually within, this country. It merely recites that Capt. WADDELL commissioned the ship in October, 1864, under orders from the Naval Department of the Confederate States, and proceeded to cruise against the commerce of the enemy. Not a word is said of his visit to Melbourne or to any other events before his arrival, in obedience to the same orders, in the Okhotsk Sea and the Arctic Ocean. We earnestly hope that the officers and men of the Shenandoah have not been liberated without communication with Mr. ADAMS. It is for the American Government either to prosecute them under our law, or to claim them under the extradition treaty. Capt. WADDELL's own statements are not strictly veracious, and if those made by the Captain of the Gen. Pike be correct, his conduct and language toward the unfortunate men whom he captured in the whalers was singularly brutal. At present we decline to accept Capt. WADDELL's statements as true. We should not in the least have pitied Capt. WADDELL had he fallen into the hands of the American navy, and we should not pity him now if he should be convicted of a felony at common law."

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

The London Times of the 17th says that it is reported that Mr. CUSHING is instructed not only to coöperate with Mr. ADAMS in bringing the respective claims of the two governments to a settlement, but to ascertain the opinions prevailing in England concerning American finance. Such a purpose, it says, would strongly attest the pacific disposition of the American Government; and as good credit means sound policy and good administration, such views should be encouraged as a benefit to the whole world.

The London Star says: "The correspondence (between Mr. ADAMS and Earl RUSSELL) is chiefly remarkable for the withdrawal by Mr. ADAMS of the offer of arbitration. Earl RUSSELL gives, at great length, facts to prove that the British Government did all that could be expected of it."

THE FENIANS.

THE ACTION AGAINST THE LORD LIEUTENANT.

The Irish Judges have given judgment in the case of Luby vs. The Lord Lieutenant. They decided that no action could be maintained against the Lord Lieutenant in his official capacity, and the writ was ordered to be taken off the file.

ARREST OF THE FENIAN HEAD CENTRE.

Intelligence from Dublin of Nov. 11, says:

"The most important arrest yet made was effected by the police this morning. Mr. STEPHENS, the alleged Head Centre of the Fenians in Ireland, for whose apprehension a reward of £200 was offered, has at length been made amenable to justice. The police took STEPHENS into custody in his own bedroom, his wife being in the apartment at the time. The house was searched, and in an adjoining bedroom were arrested KICKHAM, DUFFY and BROPHY, who were all in bed at the time. The police, thirty in number, were well armed, but the prisoners offered no resistance. Pistols and balls were lying about their rooms, and the police found immense stores, enough to support them for a year. Considerable money was found on their persons. It is stated that the police have found a check, dated New-York so late as Sept. 23, for $1,525, in favor of one of the prisoners previously arrested."

The Times says: "There can be no doubt of the treason of the 'Head Centre' and his accomplices. The arrest of STEPHENS will, we trust, extinguish Fenianism altogether."

STEPHENS has been remanded for further examination.

ARREST OF ANOTHER HEAD CENTRE.

MARTIN HIGGINS, reported to be another Head Centre, had been arrested at Tuam and committed for trial.

The Dublin Evening Mail states that a person was dispatched from New-York in September, and arrived here with credentials to appoint another Head Centre in the place of STEPHENS. He accomplished his mission, and returned with the name of the new Head Centre, which was kept secret.

THE REVOLT IN JAMAICA.

A dispatch dated London, Nov. 18, says:

"The Daily News is indignant at the tone of the military dispatches and newspaper correspondents at Jamaica, which, it thinks, proves that 'the ferocity we denounce in savages can take possession of English hearts, and mercy and justice can be forgotten by English officers as thoroughly as by Indians and Cossacks.'"

The Times says that the authorities appear to have acted with commendable promptness in Jamaica, the chief of the rebels having been captured, tried by martial law and executed at once.

The government detained the outgoing West India mail steamer, in order to allow the commercial body time to consider what steps were necessary to be taken for the protection of British interests in Chili.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The London Star says that there is but little doubt that Earl RUSSELL has determined to submit a Reform Bill to the House of Commons.

It is stated that the cold weather has had no effect in staying the cattle disease, but that the frost and rain have rather aggravated it.

CONTINENTAL NEWS.

FRANCE.

A telegram from Paris, of Nov. 12 says:

"The Emperor, Empress and Prince Imperial left St. Cloud to-day for Compeigne, where they were expected to arrive in the afternoon."

A dispatch from Toulon, of Nov. 12, says:

"The Emperor has granted a remission or reduction of their sentence to 90 convicts, on account of the devotion they displayed during the prevalence of cholera in this city. The Emperor has addressed a letter to Princess BACIOCCHI, congratulating her upon the progress of agriculture in Brittany.

REDUCTION OF THE ARMY.

It is asserted that an Imperial decree has been signed effecting great reductions in the army. Seven battalions of the Guard are to be disbanded; 100 regiments of the Line will each be reduced by three companies; 2 regiments of Carbineers are to be incorporated with the Cuirassiers of the Guard; 50 regiments of cavalry, now consisting of six squadrons each, will be reduced to five squadrons; and 40 batteries of artillery will be abolished. The reductions will altogether comprise about 1,800 officers and 42,000 men.

The saving produced when the reductions are completed will amount to 50,000,000f.

The Moniteur says: "If the Emperor has determined on the principle of reduction of the war expenditure, the means by which the reduction is to be accomplished is not yet decided upon."

SOLDIERS RETURNING FROM ROME.

The Eldorado has arrived at Toulon from Civita Vecchi, with 1,089 soldiers.

THE CHOLERA.

The reports of the cholera are excellent. The Union Medicale announces, that "in consequence of the continued decrease of the malady in Paris, it will publish no more special bulletins." The total number of deaths, from the 24th of October to Nov. 6, was 1,392.

ALGERIA.

Accounts from Algeria state that the cotton crop is being gathered in good condition, and is of superior quality.

THE CABINET.

The Paris correspondent of the Times says M. FOULD has no intention to resign. No difficulty exists in the way of an economical reform. All differences on the subject in the Cabinet had ceased. The reduction is to be made with the Emperor's full approval, and will be considerably greater than expected. It is said the saving will be about twenty-five millions of francs.

SPAIN AND SOUTH AMERICA.

The Times says the general wish of the leading people of Liverpool seems to be that England should, in conjunction with France and America, take prompt steps to put a permanent stop to the proceedings of Spain and South America, and says measures in support of that view are likely to be adopted in London, Manchester, Glasgow and other trading centres.

The Daily News remarks:

"The arbitrary conduct of Spain must soon occupy the attention of the Great Powers of Europe and America. Spain must be taught that the practice of levying black-mail must cease."

BELGIUM.

Queen VICTORIA had received a telegram denying the reported illness of the King of the Belgians. There is no alteration in the state of his health.

The secession Senate opened on the 15th.

AUSTRIA AND HUNGARY.

A telegram from Pesth, of Nov. 12, says:

"At a meeting of the Deak party, held yesterday at the house of Baron ESTVOS, it was agreed that the following demands should be expressed in the address in reply to the speech from the throne at the approaching opening of the Hungarian Diet.

1. The ancient constitutional rights of Hungary to continue to form the basis of all further negotiations between Austria and Hungary.
2. The integrity of Hungary as constituted until the year 1849, forming one kingdom with Croatia and Sclavonia, to be reëstablished.
3. The formation of a responsible government for Hungary.
4. The provisional reëstablishment of comitats on the basis of the laws passed by the Hungarian Diet of 1848.
5. The means for conducting the Hungarian Administration to be only granted on condition that the government render an account to the country, and remain responsible for the employment of the funds voted.

Herr DEAK has acceded to the resolutions of his party, passed in the conference at the house of Baron ESTOOS, in reference to the future political condition of Hungary.

ITALY.

A telegraph from Naples, of Nov. 8, says:

"207 cases of cholera have occurred here, 80 of which have proved fatal."

King VICTOR EMANUEL arrived at Naples on Nov. 11, and met with an enthusiastic reception. The palace was illuminated for the occasion with Bengal lights.

On the 11th, the King, accompanied by the Ministers, the Prefect, and Mayor of Naples, visited the cholera hospitals and investigated the sanitary system now in operation.

The King has contributed toward the relief of the sufferers from the epidemic.

A telegram from Rome, of Nov. 10, says: "Cholera does not at present exist upon Pontifical territory. Very few cases have occurred at Corneto and Toscanella."

Orders have been issued prohibiting the entry into Pontifical territory of travelers coming from Naples or adjacent places unless they can prove a stay of fifteen days in a district free from the epidemic.

It is stated that the evacuation of the provinces of Velletri and Frosinone by the French will commence on the 13th, and they will be replaced by Pontifical troops.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

AMERICAN SECURITIES.

SATTERTHWAIT's Circular of the 15th inst., says:

"A fair amount of business had been done, and a considerable amount of government stock taken off the market on continental account, but without in any degree affecting prices. The uncertainty prevailing as to the political situation of England and America, checks any tendency to improvement. The following are the latest quotations: Five-Twenties 63¼@63¾; Illinois Central Shares, 81½@81⅞; Erie Shares, 53⅞@54⅛."

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

The discount demand at the bank on the 15th inst. was rather below the average. On the Stock Exchange short loans were in demand at 6 ⅌ cent., owing to the semi-monthly settlement and large calls on OVEREND GURNEY's shares. Consols closed at 89⅝@89¾.

The Times' city article says: "The demand for discount at the bank yesterday was moderate, but in the Stock Exchange advances were in request at 6@6½ ⅌ cent.

Spanish Securities experienced a heavy fall yesterday, in consequence of the particulars brought by the West India mail in regard to the Spanish-Chilian troubles."

(By Telegraph to Londonderry.)

LIVERPOOL, Friday, Nov. 17—P. M.

COTTON—The Brokers' Circular reports the sales of the week at 46,000 bales, including 8,500 bales to speculators and 9,000 bales to exporters. The market has declined ⅛d. ⅌ lb., closing nominal. The authorized quotations are:

	Fair.	Middling.
Orleans	22½d.	20d.
Mobiles	—	19¾d.
Uplands	22d.	19¾d.

Stock in port, 294,000 bales, of which 74,000 are American. Sales to-day (Friday,) 7,000 bales, the market closing firm, but at unchanged prices.

STATE OF TRADE.

The Manchester market is irregular.

BREADSTUFFS—The market is bare and slightly lower.

PROVISIONS—Are firm. No sales of Bacon. Lard quiet.

LONDON, Friday, Nov. 17.

Consols for money 89½.
Illinois Central shares 81@81½.
Erie shares 54.
U. S. 5-20s 63½@64.
Bullion in the Bank of England increased £371,000.

LONDON CORN MARKET.

LONDON, Friday, Nov. 17.

USBORNE'S Circular reports: Weather very wet. Attendance at the market small. Supplies moderate. Wheat—English and French quiet at Monday's prices. Flour—Without alteration in value. There is a floating cargo and only one off the coast, and buyers await expected arrivals.

LIVERPOOL CORN MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, Friday, Nov. 17.

Attendance is small and business limited for Wheat and Flour, at rather under last Tuesday's rates. Oats sold barely so well, and Oatmeal 1s. ⅌ load lower.

COPPER had again risen £10 a ton.

NOTE FROM THE OFFICE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—It would seem that the reporter has made an error in stating the Liverpool Breadstuffs market to be "bare." Other accounts represent prices as slightly lower on the 17th, which could hardly be the case were there no stock.

The Mails Per Nova Scotian.

THE BROOKLYN MURDER

Gonzalez and Pellicier Indicted by the Kings County Grand Jury.

Otero's Funeral from the Church of Our Lady of Mercy.

Capt. Waddy Declines to Send the Prisoners to the Kings County Court House.

Inquest by Coroner Lynch at the Myrtle-Avenue Police Station.

The Jury Satisfied that a Third Person was Confederated in the Murder.

Yesterday morning Mr. S. D. Morris, District-Attorney of Kings County, called the attention of the Grand Jury to the fact that an atrocious murder had been committed in the City of Brooklyn, and he added that, thanks to the vigilance and energy of Capt. Waddy, of the Metropolitan Police, the murderers—or two persons whom he had every reason to believe to have been guilty of the deed—had been apprehended, and were in custody at the Forty-fourth Precinct Police-station, in Myrtle-avenue. Mr. Morris suggested, in view of the public indignation that had been roused by the crime, that the jury might do well to act upon the case at once; and concurring with the District-Attorney, the jurors adjourned to Capt. Waddy's station-house, and there saw the prisoners and their wounds, and viewed their clothing; after which they repaired to their rooms in the Kings County Court-house, and there examined several witnesses, and, it was rumored in Brooklyn last night, found true bills of indictment against both of the prisoners. It was further rumored that Gonzalez and Pellicier are to be arraigned

IN THE COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS THIS MORNING, and that their trial is to be hurried with all possible speed. Whether the rumor is well founded or not, certain it is that our neighbors over the river are desirous of an early trial of the accused; and if the Grand Jury and District-Attorney of Kings County have made uncommon haste in preparing the way for the punishment of Gonzalez and Pellicier, they have only obeyed the popular voice in Brooklyn. In many quarters of that city yesterday very serious threats were made—not, indeed, by law-abiding citizens, but nevertheless by citizens; and as this class of the community were manifestly speaking under intense excitement, Inspector Folk and Capt. Waddy thought it prudent to retain the prisoners in their cells, lest their appearance in the streets should fan the flames of popular indignation, and precipitate the police into a riot. Therefore, when Coroner Lynch sent a messenger requesting the Captain to send the prisoners to the Coroner's office,

CAPT. WADDY DECLINED TO MOVE THEM

from their cells. Coroner Lynch, meantime, had called the jury together in the hall of the Kings County Court of Sessions, and many persons were patiently awaiting the opening of the case. Half-past 1 o'clock, and nothing had been done; 2 o'clock, and the jury, and spectators and witnesses exhibited evidences of impatience; 3 o'clock, and Gonzalez and Pellicier not appearing, Coroner Lynch commenced the proceedings by calling the roll of the jury, as follows:

Joseph G. Ward, No. 206 Gold-street, foreman; H. Joseph Murray, No. 163 Fulton-street; J. R. Simmons, No. 68 Clermont-avenue; Daniel Brown, No. 286 Fulton-street; J. J. Haviland, No. 228 Washington-street; James Dubernell, No. 5 Tillary-street; A. W. Hart, No. 241 Fulton-street; J. D. Chase, No. 203 Fulton-street; G. A. Price, No. 185 Fulton-street; Solomon Oakley, No. 20 High-street.

The Coroner then read the following

ADDRESS TO THE JURY.

GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY: You have been summoned by me to ascertain when, where, and in what manner Jose Garcia Otero came to his death. On the night of the 22d of November, 1865, I was notified by the police of the Forty-fourth Precinct that the body of a man had been found in the City Park, and that the body had been conveyed to the Forty-fourth Precinct Station-house. I proceeded to the station-house, and saw the body of the deceased, and after a careful examination I expressed the opinion that he had been brutally murdered. A careful search of the body resulted in finding papers which gave a clue to the deceased man's name and where he had been stopping. I then, in company with Capt. Waddy and Sergt. C. Wright, proceeded to the City Park, and after a careful search of over three hours, we found the hat of the deceased, together with a case of razors, one single razor, a bowie-knife and case, and we also discovered the spot where the deceased had fallen and died. There was a large quantity of blood, I should judge about half a gallon, in the immediate vicinity. There was also found in the Park a pair of kid gloves, cut in several places, and covered with blood; and as a careful examination of the dead man's hands failed to reveal any corresponding cuts or marks, the natural supposition was that the gloves belonged to one of the murderers. On the following morning, I called at the station-house and requested Capt. Waddy to accompany me to the Hotel de Barcelona, in Great Jones-street, New-York; I procured a coach, and at the hotel we found the officers who had been sent over by Capt. Waddy, and after taking charge of the deceased's effects and the Captain had given his men instructions, we proceeded to the store of a Spanish merchant in Cedar-street, to whom deceased had letters of introduction, but he could give no information. Capt Waddy ordered Officer Smith to go to the Havana steamers, and the arrest of one of the prisoners was made on the pier by Roundsman Smith, with the evidence of his guilt upon him. Since that time the principal in this tragedy has been arrested by Capt. Waddy, who deserves the thanks and gratitude of the community for his exertions in endeavoring to bring the murderers to justice. He has devoted his whole time, night and day, to the exclusion of rest and food, and I am happy to say that his efforts have been crowned with success. I desire to call your attention to the importance of a speedy conclusion of this inquest. I am willing to devote the entire day and evening to the prosecution of this investigation. The Grand Jury is now in session, as is also the Court of Oyer and Terminer, both of which will no doubt adjourn before the end of this week, and will not meet again until January. I desire to conclude this investigation to-day if possible, so that this case may be brought before the Grand Jury to-morrow, and the parties who committed this murder may be brought to speedy justice. With these few remarks we will proceed with the examination of the witnesses.

THE FIRST WITNESS

was then examined, as follows:

Mr. John Phillips, of Myrtle-avenue and Canton-street, Brooklyn, sworn—On Wednesday evening, 22d inst., at about 8 o'clock, I went into the sitting-room attached to the bar-room at the intersection of Canton-street and Myrtle-avenue, and there saw the deceased and one of the two prisoners sitting in the rear room; they sat about half-an-hour drinking, and then a third person entered the place and joined them; the three sat about three-quarters of an hour longer drinking and talking in a language which I did not understand; the three went out together at about half-past nine o'clock; I do not positively identify Pellicier, and Gonzalez I have not seen; I positively identify the body of Otero as that of one of the two men who were drinking in the house when I entered.

It here became evident that the inquest could not proceed without the accused being present, and, after consultation with Inspector Folk and Judge Morris, the Coroner adjourned the examination to the Myrtle-avenue Police station at 7:30 in the evening.

THE FUNERAL SERVICES,

meantime, had been performed over the body of Otero, in the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, in Debevoise-street. The church was filled to overflowing, and the audience was composed mainly of women. There were, however, many Cuban gentlemen present, among them the acting Spanish Consul, Mr. Cuyas, proprietor of the Barcelona Hotel, Mr. Francisco G. Serrano, Mr. Tolosa, and others.

The body of the murdered man, inclosed in a rosewood casket, lined with lead, was placed in front of the altar, though the features were, with great propriety, not exposed to public gaze.

The services were commenced with the "Miserere," effectively sung by the choir. Rev. Father MCKENNA then delivered the funeral oration, showing the fearful uncertainty of human life, and the necessity of constant preparation for death. The address was listened to with thrilling interest by every one present.

After the sermon, the choir sang "Deliver us, O Lord." The services were brought to a close with the "Benedicite."

The Spanish Consul then taking charge of the body, it was removed to the Cemetery of the Holy Cross, at Flatbush, and there deposited in a receiving vault, to await instructions from the friends in Cardenas.

IN THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN

the murder was noticed yesterday, and Alderman Belknap offered a resolution instructing the proper authorities to sell the City Park at public auction immediately. Alderman Hathaway offered a resolution directing the Corporation Counsel to draw up a resolution to close up the City Park, and to have the streets in the neighborhood immediately graded and paved, and that the park be divided into lots of 25 feet by 100 feet each, and then sold at public auction. The matter was referred to the Law Committee to examine the question as to the power of the Common Council in the matter.

THE INQUEST WAS RESUMED IN THE EVENING

in Justice Morehouse's court-room, in the Myrtle-avenue Police-station, Mr. Gregory, clerk of the court, having opened the court-room for the occasion. Here the accused were brought face to face with the witnesses and the jury. The first witness, Mr. John Phillips, was recalled to the stand, and requested to say whether he recognized any person in the room as one of the party he saw in the Canton-street porter-house on the night of the murder. Mr. Phillips pointed out the prisoner Gonzalez and the clothing that Capt. Waddy has in keeping. Mr. Phillips further testified that the party drank three hot whisky punches after the third party entered the saloon, and that they were supplied by Mrs. Evans, wife of the landlord; that Pellicier was not the third man, and that he (the witness) could identify the man if he were to see him again.

The testimony of Mrs. Evans being deemed important, Coroner Lynch sent for her.

Capt. George A. Waddy, of the Forty-fourth Precinct Police, sworn: At about 10 o'clock on the night of the 22d an officer entered the Station-house and reported that they had found in the City Park the body of a man that had committed suicide; I immediately sent Sergt. C. Wright and Roundsman Smith to get the body; they soon returned with the body in a hand-cart, and when we ascertained that the man had been murdered I sent for Coroner Lynch. The Captain here detailed his subsequent proceedings. This part of the testimony was almost identical with the statements that have appeared in the TIMES, with the exception that the Captain stated that Pellicier, in making a confession, asserted that a Frenchman was engaged with Gonzalez in committing the murder, and that Gonzalez and the Frenchman attacked him and cut him with a razor because he would not assist; and further, that they compelled him to kneel and swear that he would reveal nothing, threatening to take his life on the spot if he refused to make an oath of secrecy. The Captain's testimony was direct and positive in fixing the crime upon Gonzalez and Pellicier.

Mrs. Sarah Evans, of No. 277 Myrtle-avenue, corner of Clinton-street, sworn: My husband keeps a public house; I attended bar on Wednesday night last; I cannot identify any person in this room as having been in my house on that night; I recollect that three foreigners were there and sat an hour or more in the back room, drinking; they talked incessantly, in a tongue which I did not understand; one was a stout, well-dressed man, and he paid for the liquors, which were hot whiskies; I did not particularly observe the men; did not see their faces; one of the three went out and was gone from fifteen to twenty minutes; the face is familiar; I do not know that I saw him in my house on Wednesday evening last, but I have seen him somewhere before to-night; the three went away at about a quarter past nine o'clock.

Mr. John H. Samsoni, book-keeper at the Barcelona Hotel, gave testimony tallying with the statements which we have already published.

Senor Antonio Cuyas, one of the proprietors of the Barcelona Hotel, sworn—I never knew Otero or Gonzalez until they came to my hotel on the 15th instant; at the request of Señor Otero I harbored Gonzalez in my house several days; I have seen the body of Otero, and recognized it as that of the person who had apartments under that name in my house; I identify Gonzalez, here present, as the person who accompanied Otero; I identify Pellicier as formerly a waiter in my house; he was dismissed, and subsequent to his dismissal I never saw him until the police had taken me into custody.

A THIRD PERSON ENGAGED IN THE MURDER.

Mr. Samsoni, who had been to this moment interpreting for Señor Cuyas, replying to a juror's question, said: "We once had a waiter, whose name is on our books, but which I cannot recollect, and I have been informed that he was seen on the day of the murder, with Gonzalez; on the morning subsequent to the murder he called and inquired for Otero, and I then told him what had happened; suspecting him, I sent for a detective policeman, but before the officer arrived he had gone." [In compliance with the request of the jury, we omit Mr. Samsoni's further statements.]

Policeman Patrick Corr, of the Forty-fourth Precinct, testified that he and Policeman Eden, and others, took the body of Otero from the City Park, and found the broken razor which was shown the jury; Officer Wonderly searched the body in the park; I identify the gloves here shown as those that we found in the park; it was about quarter past ten o'clock when we found Otero; the body was warm; the breast of the waistcoat had been cut across; the coat also had been cut, and there were evidences of a severe struggle.

Roundsman D. Smith, of the Forty-fourth Precinct, detailed the circumstances of the arrest, and identified the bent poniard which Roundsman Wilmarth found in the Park subsequent to the murder.

Dr. Andrew J. Willets, who made the post-mortem examination, handed in a written statement describing the wounds from which Otero died. He thought that one of the gashes might have been made by the blunted poniard shown him; but it seemed to him that there must have been yet another instrument used.

At this stage of the case Coroner LYNCH said that it seemed unnecessary to examine other witnesses, as the testimony thus far taken fixed the crime upon the prisoners, and if it should appear that there was—as the jury thought—a third person in the tragedy, the case could be resumed at a proper time. He thereupon submitted the case, and after some discussion the jury, after midnight, returned with the following

VERDICT.

"We find that Jose Garcia Otero came to his death by deadly weapons in the hands of Jose Gonzalez, Francisco Genez, alias Theodore Martinez Pellicier, and other parties to the jury unknown; and further, the jury would tender their thanks, on behalf of the people of the City of Brooklyn, to Capt. Waddy, Coroner Lynch, and Police Officer Smith, for the prompt and efficient manner in which they have effected the arrest of the prisoners."

This verdict having been recorded, the accused were formally examined through an interpreter, and Gonzalez said that he was born in Madrid thirty years ago; recently dwelt in Madrid, and there made liquors. He further said that he knew nothing of the murder. Pellicier said: "My name is Francisco Genez Salvador; I am 22 years of age; I was born about six leagues from Barcelona; I recently dwelt in Barcelona, and am a cook; I have nothing to say touching the charge against me."

Coroner Lynch remanded the prisoners, and thanking the jury, discharged them.

LOSS OF SCHR. ALARM.—Mr. R. Pearce, mate of schr. Alarm, lost at sea, reports: Sailed from Ship Harbor, Labrador, Oct. 4, with a cargo of fish for Oporto. Oct. 6, took a gale from N. W., and while running under double-reefed topsail, shipped a sea, filling decks, washing away gangway, round-house and skylight, filling the cabin; 10 A. M., while getting ready to heave to, the Captain, Wm. Hitchcock, was washed overboard; a heavy gale blowing at the time, and having no sail on the vessel, could not render him any assistance. Nothing further occurred till Oct. 23, in lat. 49 46, lon. 17 37, when a gale sprung up from S. S. W.; at 2 A. M., in a sudden send in the sea, carried both masts and jibboom over the side, vessel laboring heavy and making water, the sea going over her; 4 A. M., got the spars clear of the wreck. It being impossible to save the vessel, or of taking her into any port, set a signal of distress, and at 6 A. M. same day was taken off by ship Therese, Capt. Robinson, from Bristol, and brought to this port. The A. registered 98 tons; was 5 years old, and owned at Poole by Thomas Wanhill.

REV. DANIEL T. WOOD, Middletown, N. Y., writes: "By the use of Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer and Hair Dressing the hair has greatly thickened upon my head, and put on a very healthy appearance. The same is true of my daughter; her hair had become thin and came out constantly, until we thought the head would be almost bare; her hair has handsomely thickened up, and also has a healthful appearance."

Renewed his Age.

REV. M. THATCHER, of New-York, in a letter, says: "My age is sixty. One year ago my hair was very gray and falling. I used Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer according to directions, and now my hair is restored to its natural color, and has ceased to fall.

The Zylobalsamum I have found the best and most agreeable hair dressing I have ever used."

Valuable Testimony.

REV. A. WEBSTER, Boston, Mass., writes: "I have used, through the advice of personal friends, Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer and Zylobalsamum, for several months past, with great effect and entire satisfaction. I am now neither bald nor gray; my hair was dry and brittle, but has regained the softness of its earlier years."

For Children's Hair.

MRS. CLARK, wife of Rev. D. W. Clark, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes: "I have used Mrs. S. A. Allen's Zylobalsamum with much satisfaction in dressing my own and children's hair. After trying various articles, I feel no hesitation in recommending yours as the best I have ever used. It gives the hair a soft, glossy appearance, and retains it in any position desired."

His Wife Approves.

REV. I. MOORE, late agent American Bible Union, writes: "I have used Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer and Hair Dressing, and it has also been used by my wife. We unqualifiedly pronounced them the best preparations we have ever used—in which declaration many friends join us."

A Fine Head of Hair.

REV. J. H. CORNELL, New-York City, says in a letter: "I procured Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer and Zylobalsamum for a relative. I am happy to say it prevented the falling off of the hair, and restored it from being gray to its natural glossy and beautiful black."

Get the Best.

REV. C. A. BUCKBEE, Treasurer of the American Bible Union, New-York, writes: "I very cheerfully add my testimony to that of numerous other friends, to Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer and Zylobalsamum. The latter I have found superior to anything I have ever used."

Valuable Articles.

REV. J. WEST, No. 6 Washington-place, Pacific-st., Brooklyn, L. I., says, in a letter: "I am happy to bear my testimony to the value and efficacy of Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer and World's Hair Dressing, in the most liberal sense. They have restored my hair where it was bald, and where gray, to its original color."
